PREMIER SETS NEW SCHEDULE

Drops Plan to Fly East—To Visit Edmonton Same Day As Liberal Leader

REVELSTOCK, Sept. 20 (AP)—A change in the campaign itinerary of Prime Minister Bennett was announced today, eliminating the Seattle to Buffalo airplane flight, and restoring the September 25 date for Edmonton. That is the night Liberal Leader Mackenzie King is also scheduled to speak in Edmonton.

Mr. Bennett, late today, received the press representatives who are accompanying him, and announced the change. He had received a telegram from the Earl of Beaulieu, in which the Governor-General asked the Prime Minister not to interrupt his campaign on his Excellency's account.

DROPS PLANE TRIP
The Prime Minister had intended leaving Vancouver Tuesday morning next, to proceed by air to Buffalo by way of Seattle, so that he would be back in Ottawa in time to bid an official farewell to the Governor-General on September 26.

It is now the Prime Minister's intention to adhere mainly to the original itinerary made public some days before he left Ottawa.

Mr. Bennett will speak in Victoria Saturday evening, spending Sunday in Vancouver. He will speak there Monday night, and then start the eastern trip. He will speak at Kamloops, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Brandon and Winnipeg, then jump to London for a meeting September 30, after which he will open the Maritime Provinces tour.

JURY UNABLE TO REACH VERDICT
Case of Reno Gamblers Charged With Hush Swindle, Results In Mistrial

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—For the second time the mail freight trial of James G. McKay and William J. Graham, Reno, Nev., gamblers, resulted in mistrial today when a jury was unable to agree on a verdict after nearly fifty-two hours.

Whether the two sportsmen, charged by the government with taking a 15 per cent "cut" on the operations of a Canadian-American gambling ring, will be tried a third time will be decided at an early conference of prosecutors, said J. Howard Carter, assistant United States district attorney. The jury disagreed in the first trial.

Italy's Seats Vacant at League Council

When Bedjurod Teclé Hawariate, Ethiopian delegate to the League of Nations Council, started speaking at Geneva on September 6, the two Italian delegates to the council, including Baron Pompeo Aloisi, promptly left the council table and the building. From left to right, next to the empty seats, are: Premier Pierre Laval, of France; Mr. Guinazu, of Argentina, president of the council; Mr. Avenol, Captain Anthony Eden, of England; Foreign Minister Litvinov, of Soviet; and Joseph Beck, of Poland.

Sweet Girlish Smile Rewarded by Legacy of $170,000

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Because, as a child, she "had had a sweet smile," Mrs. Hannah Gruber Medoff unexpectedly received a $50,000 bequest seven years ago, to be paid in 1935.

Today, in the office of her attorney, she was told that on December 25, her thirty-first birthday, she would receive—not $50,000, but nearly $170,000—"as a result of changes in the status of her legacy."

The legacy is from the $2,000,000 estate of the late Dr. Howard Louraine.

RECORD ENTRY OF CANDIDATES

Liberals Lead With 222 Seeking Election—Conservatives Have 198

(Canadian Press)
Nominations in the Dominion general election campaign have huddled the 700 mark and up to last night 711 candidates had been named. The total, largest in Canadian political history, far eclipsed the 644 nominations in 1921.

Liberals led with 222, followed by Conservatives with 198, Reconstruction party, 124, and Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, 124.

Candidates with various other affiliations totaled forty-nine, including thirteen members of the Alberta Social Credit League and four Social Credit candidates in Saskatchewan.

Advance nominations will be held in seventy-six constituencies on September 30, and nominations for the remainder of the 245 seats on October 7, one week before the election.

No party has yet placed candidates in every constituency, though Conservatives, Liberals and Reconstructionists have nominees in all provinces.

Operators Are Instructed to Handle All Cargo Offered Despite Union Stand

RELEASE OF SEVEN FREIGHTERS SOUGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20 (AP)—A scheduled meeting of the major ship operators of the Pacific Coast and representatives of the International Seamen's Union today was postponed until Monday. Ship operators asked the Labor Relations Board to sponsor the meeting in an effort to effect the release of seven ships tied up in Pacific Coast ports because of labor disputes.

Meanwhile, a new crisis in waterfront affairs approached a climax, as a "show-down" expected to take place tomorrow morning. Ship operators, notified by shippers that they will be expected to handle all cargo offered, in turn passed the word to Maritime unions, pointing out that common carriers, under the Federal law, cannot refuse to accept legitimate cargo.

As a result, on virtually every San Francisco pier tomorrow morning, cargo, handled at some time by ship operators, will be expected to be accepted by the unions.

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Through the long court hearings that cleared them from a charge of manslaughter, Pilot William J. Mulquerry and his parachute-jumping pal, Irvin Davis, tonight adopted the role of professional narrators. Only a couple of hours after Magistrate Douglas Keith acquitted them from criminal responsibility for the death of Len Koeneke in a mid-air fight in the little cabin of an airplane, the Detroit fliers contracted to tell to a sympathetic details of the fatal flight and their plans for the future.

GREAT BRITAIN STANDS FIRM ON ITALO-ETHIOPIAN DISPUTE

TWO DIE IN PLANE CRASH

Regina Pilot-Instructor and Student Killed Instantly in Sudden Dive

REGINA, Sept. 20 (AP)—One of the West's best-known airmen, thirty-eight-year-old R. J. Groome, pilot-instructor of the Regina Flying Club, was instantly killed in a training airplane with a student pilot Arnold J. Sims, twenty-four, Strasbourg, today in a crash on a golf course, 300 yards from the airport.

The airplane fell from a height of about 200 feet and posed two feet into the earth. The ship was completely wrecked and the bodies of the instructor, in the front cockpit, and the student, to the rear, were crushed into the mass of twisted wreckage. They were extricated with difficulty and appeared to have every bone in their bodies broken.

STUDENT AT CONTROLS
The presence of the student in the main control seat indicated he was piloting at the time of the crash.

Informed of the crash, Mrs. Groome, wife of the instructor, insisted on visiting the spot. "He died as he always wanted to—fly," she sobbed to a friend. The bodies had been removed, but Groome's helmet and goggles still lay in the wreckage. She asked for them.

Groome was a careful flyer and a firm upholder of the safety of air travel. Once he was quoted as saying: "What's scared of getting killed flying? You mean, I'm scared I won't be. I travel in airplanes and get the 'bushy-jerries' if I travel any other way."

LEAVES ONE CHILD
Sims, a married man with one child, made his first solo flight on Wednesday.

About the first on the scene after the crash was Hugh Smith and thirteen-year-old Bernard. Lunch they were attempting to pull the bodies from the wreckage as Bert Langdon, Flying Club mechanic, and Miss Alice Blake, a student pilot, arrived, closely followed by a troop of R.C.M.P. recruits on horseback.

With the assistance of police the bodies were pulled out and placed side by side near the wreckage. Pieces of the torn plane fabric were used to cover them until removal in an ambulance.

MARINE RATES ARE INCREASED

Insurance Premiums Are Doubled Indicating Fears Of War

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Drastic increases in marine rates, in some instances amounting to 150 per cent today were witness to the tension in financial circles over fear of war.

The sharpest upturn, 150 per cent, was that on the new rate applied on general cargoes to and from or by way of the Mediterranean or Red Seas or to or from Italy or Italian possessions. The rate, 121-2c per $100 compared with 5c per $100 yesterday.

RATE IS DOUBLED
The rate on all other shipments to or from the United Kingdom, Continental Europe was quoted at 21-2c per $100. This represented an increase of approximately 100 per cent over the various rates quoted yesterday.

Insurance officials explained that these rates applied only to cargoes while on the water. Furthermore they stated, they excluded steamers flying the Italian flag.

Will Not Withdraw Single Ship From Mediterranean Until Settlement of Abyssinian Issue Is Under Way—Mussolini Adopts More Conciliatory Attitude in Regard to British Fleet

Genera Is Pessimistic Over Eventual Reply to Proposals

GENEVA, Sept. 21 (Saturday)—A British spokesman said early today that not one British warship will be withdrawn from the Mediterranean until the Italo-Ethiopian dispute "is on its way toward a settlement."

The official referred to a report that Premier Mussolini is willing to begin conversations with Great Britain on the Libyan situation in an effort to effect a diminution of the British naval forces in the Mediterranean.

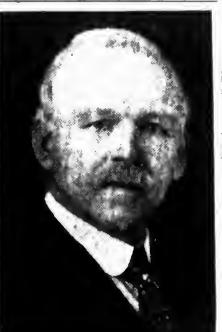

The statement came after Italian sources had disclosed to the Associated Press that direct negotiations between the two countries on what London considers an Italian demand to exempt through Italy's colony of Libya have begun or will begin soon.

The increase of British fleet in the Mediterranean, Italian sources said, was not because of Ethiopia but because London believed Egypt was endangered when Rome sent troops to Libya. Those sources reported that London objected to what was termed anti-British and pro-Italian propaganda in Egypt designed to hurt Britain's standing.

QUITTER TONE
Rome Sept. 20 (AP)—Italy tonight displayed a slightly more conciliatory attitude towards Great Britain, although a high source stated she would protest to the League of Nations Council against the British naval movements in the Mediterranean.

Reflecting the change in attitude was a shift in the tone of the stock exchange. A spokesman indicated there is a chance for negotiations.

An authoritative source said Premier Mussolini had ordered Baron Poppo Asch, chief delegate at Geneva, to protest to the League Council that the concentration of British ships constitutes as much a violation of the covenant as Italy's sending troops to East Africa.

NEW THREAT OF STRIKE ARISES

Negotiations Between Soft Coal Miners and Operators Collapse for Sixth Time

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The soft coal wage negotiations, which broke down for the sixth time in the last half year, bringing new talk of the possibility of a general strike in the United States, today emerged from protracted conferences, a preliminary committee of two Appalachian producers and two United Mine Workers, reported, in a large committee that they had been unable to break a deadlock which had its start in February near the outset of wage-hour contract negotiations.

THREE POSSIBILITIES
Observers saw three possibilities as a result of tonight's break down of negotiations. A strike, an immediate renewal of negotiations, President Roosevelt's intervention before the conference adjourns Sunday, with another extension of the time for arbitration to follow.

Wages for bituminous miners throughout the Appalachian area depend on the Appalachian agreement and without that agreement the miners have asserted they would order every member in the soft coal fields to stay away from work Monday.

Anglican Church In Canada Backs Stand by Britain

Executive Council Meeting at Calgary Approves Actions of London in Italo-Ethiopian Dispute—Seeks Maintenance of World Peace—Reports Submitted From All Sections

CALGARY, Sept. 20.—The stand of the Mother Church and the Government of Great Britain in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute was approved here today by the executive council of the Church of England in Canada.

Nearing the end of a week of sessions, dignitaries of the Anglican Church voiced the hope that "through appropriate action of the Council of the League of Nations, international morality may be secured; justice among nations may be administered and the peace of the world maintained."

The motion, sponsored by Canon W. H. Davidson, of Montreal, and seconded by Rt. Rev. J. Hackenley, Bishop of Nova Scotia, in its original form held that the attitude of Italy in regard to Ethiopia was "morally indefensible." After vigorous debate the motion was modified and then passed by a substantial majority.

DUTY TO SPEAK OUT
With the European situation fast approaching a crisis, Canon Davidson said, it was the duty of the church to speak and speak clearly on the moral issues involved. The resolution called upon the council to affirm the sacredness and binding character of international treaties.

"I am satisfied there isn't one of us here who does not disapprove of Italy's attitude toward Ethiopia," Ven. Archdeacon R. C. Blagrove, of Peterborough, Ont., asserted. "What is offending the moral sense of the world today is this very attitude. I submit we ought to take a strong and fearless stand at this time in support of the action of Great Britain."

CAUTION ADVISED
Rev. Dr. S. H. Prince, of Halifax, urged that this resolution be adopted to consider carefully its public pronouncements on the question and Judge E. H. McLean, of Pictou, Ont., took exception to the phrase "morally indefensible." Judge McLean said he was quite willing to support the resolution in its entirety if the executive was sure it understood its full implication.

"If Italy refuses to recede from her position," he declared, "it will

Britain Stands Firm On Italo-Ethiopian Dispute Settlement

Mussolini's own newspaper, the Popolo d'Italia, softened toward London, but said firmly that sanctions would "irreparably shatter the Stressa front (formed by Italy, Britain and France), and would oblige Italy to abandon Geneva."

These developments came on the eve of a Cabinet meeting at which action will be taken on the League's plan for peace.

A treasury communiqué disclosed that war preparations are now costing Italy more than 250,000,000 lire (about $26,000,000) a month, or more than 4,000,000,000 lire a year.

NEGOTIATION BASIS
A Government spokesman said that although the committee of five's proposal could not be accepted in its present form, there is a possibility of Italy's accepting it as a basis for discussion provided the proposals are considerably modified. He stressed the necessity of modifying considerably the spirit in which they were conceived, which he characterized as "unfriendly."

He repeated emphatically that Italy has no designs on any part of the British Empire.

Significance was attached to the drop of war and munitions shares after the more conciliatory attitude was shown. All other stocks held firm or advanced.

GENEVA PESSIMISTIC
GENEVA, Sept. 20.—With only a glimmer of hope, members of the League of Nations are anxiously discussing the next move in the Italian struggle for peace in East Africa.

Daily the shadow of war deepens. If Premier Mussolini says anything but "no" to the proposed peace terms, nobody will be more pleasurably surprised than the five-power committee which prepared them. Pessimism rules.

So far the committee has been careful not to term its plans a formal report. It is really drafted as a suggested basis for peace negotiations under no particular article of the covenant. But if either of the two parties rejects the plan it will be submitted to the council, and the council will proceed to make a formal report under article 13 of the League covenant.

If the council then unanimously adopts the report and one of the two parties to the dispute accepts it, the other cannot make war except in violation of its covenant obligations.

And that imposes the liability of sanctions, provided under article 16. Under article 16, a member who resorts to war in disregard of articles 12, 13 or 15 of the covenant shall be deemed "ipso facto" to have committed an act of war against all other members.

FRANCE'S EFFORTS
Copyright, 1935, by Havas News Agency
ROME, Sept. 20 (CP-Havas).—France tonight made a strong plea to Premier Mussolini to accept League of Nations peace proposals in the Italo-Ethiopian crisis.

In a two-hour interview with Mussolini, Count Charles de Chamberlain, French Ambassador, emphasized that by accepting the proposals of the League five-power committee Italy would be preparing the way for future expansion.

Sir Eric Drummond, British Ambassador, also had a long conversation with Fulvio Suvich, Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

It was generally believed the only question remaining for the Cabinet to decide is whether the door will be left open for future negotiations. Most observers believed this is improbable.

BLAMES GREAT BRITAIN
Great Britain will be held responsible for any European war developing from the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, the Italian Cabinet will declare in its answer to League of Nations' peace proposals, it was learned tonight.

The Cabinet is not expected to mention Great Britain by name, but will say specifically that Italy accepts full responsibility for her Ethiopian policy, but no responsibility for European complications. Italians are convinced the British naval steps in the Mediterranean constitute direct provocation of Italy.

It is declared, however, that the famous phrase, "sanctions mean war," does not imply that steps taken by a third power will automatically result in reprisal and an Italian declaration of war. In other words, Italy will to the end force other powers to take the responsibility for first action.

FRANCE SENDS TROOPS
The French capital, eagerly awaiting tomorrow's meeting of Premier Laval's Cabinet, learned tonight that fully 6,000 French African troops are to leave for Djibouti, French Somaliland, adjacent to the danger zone in East Africa.

The new draft for the French colony, destined to protect the populace in the event of an Italo-Ethiopian war, will be composed of two regiments, it was said.

STATES VIEWS ON SOCIALISM

T. Guy Sheppard Addresses Audience at City Temple—Reviews Parties

A review of the policies of the three major parties in the Federal election campaign followed by an analysis of the working class movement, as opposed to capitalism, was given by Captain T. Guy Sheppard, M.C., at a public meeting last night in the City Temple.

In his discussion of the policies of the parties, namely: Reconstruction, Conservative and Liberal, Captain Sheppard maintained that no one of them offered a lasting solution to the present problems because they were all capitalistic in their beliefs. The C.C.F., he said, was nearest to the socialistic doctrine, and he suggested the people vote for that party in preference to any one of the other three.

NOT A CANDIDATE
By his partial support for the C.C.F., Captain Sheppard intimated he would not be a candidate in the present election campaign. He explained his reasons for his break with the Commonwealth party some six months ago. He did not think, he said, the movement was properly administered and that it had not progressed, although he had hopes that some day the C.C.F. would be able to join him.

He directed towards Socialists of the more advanced type. He declared that the time would come when the working class movement would control the affairs of the country. He mentioned briefly the candidates in the Victoria riding and also severely criticized the recent meeting of the Liberals at which Hon. Mitchell Hepburn was the principal speaker.

Reconstruction Leader in Sarcastic Vein Suggests Ministerial Slate

ISSUES CHALLENGE TO PUBLIC DEBATE

MONTREAL, Sept. 20.—A Cabinet slate for a new National Government with Sir Herbert Holt, "the master mind," as Prime Minister and President of the Privy Council, was suggested by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Reconstruction Party leader, here tonight. The slate was offered, he said smilingly, from his twenty-five years of experience, "of the most outstanding men in their lines, in their own opinion."

Declaring that "thousands, not tens of thousands of dollars" had been spent by those interested in promoting the idea of a National Government, the Reconstruction Party leader called upon its promoters to come out into the open, state their policies and programs, and try to carry it out.

OTHER PORTFOLIOS

For the post of Finance Minister, Mr. Stevens suggested Sir Joseph Flavelle, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, "with an intimate knowledge of finance." Alime Geoffrion, K.C., of Montreal, he picked for the Justice portfolio. A practical railwayman was required for the Railways Department so he suggested Sir Edward Beatty.

The Minister of Agriculture might be entrusted to Stanley McLean, president of "Canada Packers" Limited. "Mr. McLean has an intimate knowledge of the livestock and packing business," said Mr. Stevens. "As the Department of Labor required a head familiar with labor problems, I nominate Sir Charles Gordon, president of Dominion Textiles, for it." Senator Lorne Webster, Mr. Stevens suggested, should be made Minister of Mines "because of his familiarity with the fuel situation."

TASCHEREAU FOR WORKS

Hon. C. H. Cahane, Secretary of State, should be retained in that portfolio in the National Government, said Mr. Stevens. He had noted a great many men employed on road work in traveling through the province of Quebec, so he suggested Premier Taschereau for Minister of Public Works. "Mr. Gundy, of Wood, Gundy & Company," was his nominee for the portfolio of National Revenue.

He would not attempt to complete the slate, the Reconstruction Party leader said. Once again he charged Canadian banks and financial interests with restricting credit and failing to give leadership at a time of economic stress.

CHALLENGE TO DEBATE

A challenge to Prime Minister Bennett and Liberal Leader Mackenzie King to meet him and discuss questions of the day on the public platform, was voiced by Mr. Stevens.

He said, "spotters" had been placed on his trail in order to endeavor to unearth something which would prove injurious and could be used against him. He claimed to know all about this effort, including the names of those who participated in it.

"We propose to establish a clearing house for mining information," Mr. Stevens informed his audience, in discussing mineral development. "Buried in the dusty archives of the Geological Department at Ottawa is information which would make hundreds of corporations rich if they had it." He proposed to assist every prospector who made a discovery, and geologists would be sent out to investigate reports of mineral finds. Also, definite efforts to interest British capital in Canadian mining developments would be made.

Shellbark hickory ranks first as the best kind of wood for fuel. Chestnut, white oak, white ash and red oak follow in the order named.

CITY ALDERMAN MAY WITHDRAW

Acting-Mayor P. R. Brown Practically Decides 'Upon Retiring From Council

Acting-Mayor P. R. Brown announced yesterday that he had practically decided to withdraw from civic life at the end of his term this year. He gave business and health reasons as an explanation.

His retirement will close a long period of service in the interest of the city. Alderman Brown served four years on the school board, and eight years on the City Council. As chairman of the finance committee for many years, he guided the financial policies of the city, and did much to protect Victoria's investments, and placed the sinking fund in a sound condition.

Tom Mooney Presses Three-Fold Claim in Battle for Freedom

Says He Was Deprived of Constitutional Rights to Have Counsel—Oregon Man Supports Statements of Convicted San Francisco Bomber

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20 (AP).—A long-forgotten statement by Thomas Mooney to police immediately after his arrest for the 1916 Preparedness Day parade bombing here was read at Mooney's habeas corpus hearing today in an effort to show he was deprived of his constitutional rights to have counsel.

The hearing, before a State Supreme Court referee, with Mooney seeking his freedom on the ground he was convicted by perjured testimony, also was marked by charges that Mooney was "framed" by a public utility detective.

A threat to stop the hearing by injunction came from Warren K. Billings at Folsom, Calif., convicted with Mooney on a murder charge, declared he thought he had a right to hear any questions involving him and "for that reason I may stand on my constitutional rights and refuse to testify by deposition."

SOUGHT COUNSEL
Mooney's statement, which his attorneys said was revealed for the first time, argued that he be allowed counsel, but he received none until much later.

The document, found in the Hall of Justice basement in a large box containing other evidence of the parade bombing, revealed conversation between Mooney and District Attorney Charles M. Eickert.

Answering Eickert's accusation that "you know you are guilty of these heinous murders," Mooney assertedly replied:

PROTESTED INNOCENCE
"You know I am innocent. Your attempt to implicate me in this terrible crime is the most dastardly thing possible."

The statement, read by Frank P. Walsh, of Mooney's counsel, related that Mooney "ignominiously" denied any connection with the bombing, which killed 100 persons and injured forty others. It quoted Mooney as saying he was on the roof of the Elfers Building at the time of the explosion.

As the court closed for the day, Walsh asked Mooney if he had ever heard of the statement.

"I did not know it was still in existence," Mooney said. "I have never seen it or heard of it, but I am mighty proud of it."

SUPPORTS MOONEY

OREGON CITY, Ore., Sept. 20 (AP).—An earnest denial that Tom Mooney could have fired the bomb that killed fourteen persons in San Francisco Preparedness Day Parade in 1916 was made tonight by Marshall R. Spencer, fifty-eight, who was, he said, with Mooney on the roof of the Elfers Building on the day of the catastrophe.

Spencer, who said he then was janitor in the building, repeated the declaration as the Associated Press reporter left the tiny walk-up

PRINCETON LINE MAY BE DROPPED

Great Northern Asks Leave to Abandon Interior Railway to Boundary

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (AP).—Applications for leave to abandon two branch lines in Manitoba and one in British Columbia, operated by its subsidiaries, have been filed by representatives of the Great Northern Railway in Winnipeg with the Board of Railway Commissioners.

In Manitoba, the applications seek abandonment of lines running from Brandon to the international boundary and from Morden to the international boundary, operated by the Brandon, Saskatchewan & Hudson Bay Railway.

In British Columbia, leave to abandon the line from Princeton to the international boundary, operated by the Vancouver, Victoria & Eastern Railway, is sought.

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (AP).—The Bank of Canada announced today tenders had been accepted from a group of Canadian financial institutions for the full amount of $15,000,000 worth of Dominion treasury bills due December 31.

The average discount price of the accepted bids was $99.63158 and the average yield 1.363 per cent. The bills are being issued to refund an issue of $15,000,000 maturing September 23.

FIND DEATH ACCIDENTAL

Story of Automobile Tragedy Reviewed at Inquest At Macleod

MACLEOD, Alta., Sept. 20 (AP).—Thomas M. Long, whose wife met instant death when their automobile plunged over a 100-foot embankment near here Sunday night, lived until Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning, according to evidence given at the inquest here today.

Long's fourteen-month-old son, William, was found alive, standing beside the body of his mother, clutching her dress.

Dr. K. Kennedy, testifying at the inquest, said Long had not been dead more than thirty-six hours when searchers found the bodies Thursday morning. He had suffered a fatal chest injury which had induced a hemorrhage, the doctor said.

LEAD BY BABY'S CRY
The baby's cry directed searchers to the scene of the fatal crash, Harry C. Rhimes said. The father had attempted to gain the top of the embankment and seventy-five feet below the mother's body lay.

During his long hours of suffering, the thirty-eight-year-old father, it was believed, had cared for his young son, keeping him warm. After the father's death, the youngster had returned to his mother's body. Police believed the car backed over the bank as Long was attempting to turn on the road. It was a complete wreck, with wreckage scattered all down the bank.

The jury brought in a verdict of accidental death.

The baby was in hospital here today, recovering from exposure. Doctors said it would live.

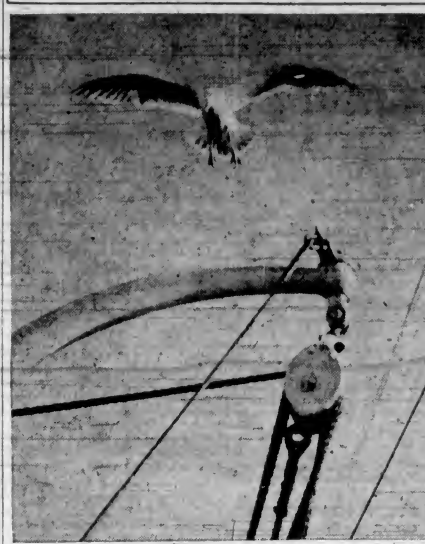

CANDIDATE HAS BIG RECEPTION

Conservative Nominee in Nanaimo Riding Speaks At Shawngnan Lake

SHAWNGNAN LAKE, Sept. 20.—The record and policies of the Conservative party were expounded here last night to a capacity audience by C. H. Dickie, Conservative candidate for the Nanaimo riding. Mr. Dickie was ably supported by Col. H. E. Clayton and R. A. Woodson, of Victoria. Dr. C. A. Boyd, president of the local Conservative Association, presided.

Dr. Clayton detailed the resolutions made by Mr. Mackenzie King in his successful campaign of nine years ago, and ventured the opinion that, as not one had been carried out, his new promises would fare no better. Mr. Bennett, he said, looked upon unemployment as Canada's most urgent problem.

Gliding to a Landing

This action photograph of a seagull about to land, was taken by C. T. Onions, 1340 Stanley Avenue, Victoria, and was awarded sixth prize in the August Amateur Snapshot Contest conducted by The Daily Colonist.

The speaker reminded his audience of Mr. Dickie's sterling worth and earnestly solicited the support of the voters.

TRADE POLICIES
Mr. Wootton endorsed Col. Clayton's closing remarks, speaking of Mr. Dickie as an ardent supporter of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett.

He recalled that in 1927, with the Liberals still in power, Canadian trade began to slip, while adverse American tariffs made Canada the dumping ground for American goods. Mr. Bennett's trade policies since 1930, the speaker claimed, have paved the way to an imminent economic recovery. While in 1929 Mr. Mackenzie King is said to have stated that Canada's economic condition was never better, Mr. Bennett had already warned the country of the impending crash. The country and the people, Mr. Wootton declared, were in accord with Mr. Bennett's new policy, which was hindered by his unfortunate illness.

Mr. Dickie in his opening remarks spoke of the "Pandora's box of troubles," which Mr. Bennett took over in 1930. Faced with the problem of American dumping, Mr. Bennett's policy, he said, was to put tariffs that have resulted in the fact that there are more American factories in Canada than in any other country in the world.

TO LIGHTEN BURDEN
The Conservative Government, he regarded taxation as one of the greatest detriments in Canada at the present time, and would do its best to lighten the burden. Mr. Bennett, in the last four years of Conservative power, had, in Mr. Dickie's opinion, been mainly instrumental in strengthening the link that binds Canada to the Mother Country. "In these days of nationalism," he stated, trade within the Empire is our only hope. While admiring Rev. J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, and his high ideals, Mr. Dickie ventured the opinion that no one is good enough to be an ideal Socialist, while the task of keeping the country to these ideals would lead eventually to a dictatorship.

Refreshments were served by the local Conservative Association.

CHINESE BISHOP TO BE ENTHRONED

Will Head Honan Diocese Where Canadian Missionaries Will Be Under His Authority

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (AP).—Rev. Philip Lindel Tsen will be enthroned on Sunday in Trinity Cathedral, Kailers, as Bishop of Honan, China, in succession to Rev. William C. White, who retired some months ago. Rev. F. L. Norris, presiding bishop of the church in China, will officiate at the ceremony.

Bishop Tsen will be the first Chinese diocesan bishop of the Anglican Church, although there are six other Chinese bishops. One of these is a missionary bishop and the others are assistant bishops. Bishop Tsen was consecrated in 1919 and since then has been assistant to Dr. White.

The Canadian Church of England missionaries in Honan will be under the episcopal authority of Dr. Tsen, as well as twelve Chinese priests and a large number of catechists, Bible women and teachers. The support of the bishop is provided for in China, but the Canadian church will continue to support the work of the Canadian church mission in the diocese of Honan.

S. J. LEVY DEAD AT VANCOUVER

Was Head of Brighthouse Park And Long Prominent in Horse Racing

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20 (AP).—S. J. Levy, managing director of Brighthouse Park, prominently associated with horse racing in British Columbia for fifteen years, died today in the General Hospital.

A native of Elizabeth, N.J., Mr. Levy had been a resident of Vancouver for more than thirty years. He came West as a boy in the late '90's and, while the gold rush was at its peak in Dawson, decided to try his luck there. Subsequently he engaged in the fishing and canning industry near Vancouver.

Gifted with a rare sense of humor, he could hold an audience spellbound while he told of experiences and hardships endured by prospectors of the Yukon rush. One of his most interesting stories was of his efforts to reach the Yukon and how the sailing ship, on his return journey, sailed almost halfway across the Pacific before finally landing at Seattle.

REVIVED HORSE RACING
To Mr. Levy, more than any other person, goes the credit for reviving the racing game on the Lower Columbia-Mainland, after it closed in 1914 at Brighthouse Park (at that time Minoru Park).

In charge of the affairs of the late Michael Wilkinson, Brighthouse, during one of the latter's visits to the British Isles, Mr. Levy decided to attempt to revive horse racing here in 1920, and he enlisted the support of the late Robert F. Leighton and W. C. Solan, a former associate in the fishing industry. The latter is the only surviving member of the original quartette actively connected with the revival of racing at Brighthouse.

The seasons of 1920-21 were among the most successful ever conducted here. There was a scarcity of horses, but Levy overcame the obstacle by ordering a complete trainload of thoroughbreds from Reno, Nevada. The express charges on the shipment alone totaled more than $18,000.

Mr. Levy is survived by a brother, Ben, in New York, and a sister in Washington, D.C.

MAY MODIFY HEALTH PLAN

Outspoken Criticism of State Insurance Plan Draws Provincial Reply

Following outspoken criticisms of British Columbia state health insurance proposals at an influential convention of Canadian and visiting physicians and surgeons in Vancouver this week, Hon. Dr. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, issued a statement yesterday saying the scheme as set out in the present draft bill would be greatly simplified at its inception, "with fewer benefits and contributions correspondingly reduced."

Quoting Dr. Alfred Cox, O.B.E., M.A., L.L.D., a former secretary of the British Medical Association, in favor of state health insurance, Dr. Weir said:

"The proposed draft bill on health insurance served as a basis for discussion by all interested parties. These parties have been invited to attend the sittings of the health insurance committee and to offer suggestions for the improvement of the draft bill. This plan is a comprehensive one, and is subject to revision. It includes comparatively large benefits and correspondingly large contributions."

TO MODIFY PLAN
"It is probable that, at the beginning, the plan will be greatly simplified, fewer benefits will be offered and the contributions considerably reduced. The aim of the health insurance measure is to enable a certain percentage of our population to receive the medical benefits which they are unable to obtain individually, and also to systematize the burden of sickness costs, which, under present conditions, fall with excessive severity on the individual at a time when he is least able to pay."

In a brochure entitled "A Plan of Health Insurance for British Columbia, 1935," issued by the Government, a number of schemes are discussed at varying costs. One scheme, on page sixteen, embracing employees and dependents, mentions a total bill of $7,287,500, of which it is set out $5,000,000 would be allotted to medical care, $1,000,000 for cash benefits, $825,000 for the medical care of indigents, and $662,500 for administration. These figures, it is further explained, represent maximum costs.

HOW IT WORKS
Under the above plan state physicians would receive a total of $2,070,000 in a sample year; hospitals, $1,575,000; dentists, $225,000; private duty nurses, $225,000; laboratory services, $350,000; drugs and medicines, $720,000, with $450,000 for reserves and contingencies.

Alternative and less costly schemes are also detailed, the whole to be financed by a new form of provincial tax, by provincially collected: the ultimate tax rising to 3 per cent of employees' salaries, and 2 per cent of employers' payrolls, in respect to those in receipt of less than $2,400 a year in the province.

The effect of Dr. Weir's statement yesterday is that it is the Government's present intention to seek introduction of a state health scheme on a less costly basis than had been previously discussed.

Meanwhile, a Provincial committee of sixteen, under Dr. Allan Peckham, is preparing for continuation here on Monday and Tuesday of public hearings launched first in Vancouver.

Shopkeeper: "I'm afraid I can't change this expense, sonny; it's bad."

Little Boy: "B-bad? Oh, dear, that will be the last coin I'll save if that's how they go."

Annual Prize-Giving Ceremony Takes Place at Quadra Street School
Replacing the annual picnic, members of Quadra Street School Parent-Teacher Association yesterday afternoon presented each of the 250 pupils with a jubilee mug during the annual prize-giving ceremony in the auditorium of the school. Pupils spiritedly sang "The Jubilee March," under direction of the school principal, G. H. E. Green.
Mrs. Curtis Sampson gave her impressions of the jubilee celebration in England, giving many illustrations of the love held by the British people for King George and Queen Mary. The speaker was presented with a large bouquet of white and violet asters by one of the elementary pupils.
In presenting The Times Cup for drill, organized games, physical training, first aid, signaling and shooting, B. C. Nicholas stressed the importance of a sound mind and body. He told children they should always remember a good loser is better than a bad winner.
FIRST AID AWARDS
Trustee Percy E. George presented the school with the Lord Strathcona cash award and the Provincial Government prize for proficiency in first aid. Eighty-seven pupils were awarded junior first aid certificates.

MR. BENNETT SPEAKS

The highlight of the present Federal election campaign will be reached here tonight when Mr. R. B. Bennett, the Prime Minister, will speak at the Royal Victoria Theatre. No man in the country understands its political problems better; no man has been greater individual asset to Canada during the trying times through which the world as a whole has been passing. Mr. Bennett, indeed, is possessed of a rare combination of gifts which has lifted him to the top in the political life of the Dominion. He is dominated by conscientiousness in his task; he has ability to envisage the implications of any course of action; he has the statesmanlike outlook both in national and international dealings; he has the courage of his convictions and strength and sanity in his performances.

Mr. Bennett gave himself up wholeheartedly to the task of safeguarding the country's interests and brought so much personal devotion to the service that his health suffered. He is now happily recovered and has plunged anew into his duties. At the present time he is engaged in a country-wide election campaign and his utterances, whether from the platform or over the air, have been easily the most constructive and inspiring of any of the political parties engaged in the contest. Mr. Bennett's tenure has been one of achievement. It has put into the forefront of the country's mind monetary policy. It has increased the country's trade, notable by the negotiation of the Ottawa agreements which have given a great impetus to commerce between Empire countries. His Government has co-operated with the provinces, particularly in a financial way, to a greater extent than any administration at Ottawa has ever done before. The credit of those provinces, as well as of the Dominion, has been preserved intact through policies determined by Mr. Bennett and his ministers. The Government, too, has inaugurated sweeping social reforms.

Mr. Bennett tonight will tell the people of Victoria of the results of the past five years of a Conservative regime at Ottawa. It has been a record of achievement in a large way and one which was of the highest value in safeguarding the people's interests in trying economic times. As the directive force of governmental policy, Mr. Bennett has followed the path of safety and surety, which was indicated by all experiences of the past. He has marched with the times, as well, in the desire of the people for social legislation.

Mr. Bennett is under no delusions about the problems which have to be faced in the future. His Government has laid the foundation for their solution, and he is appealing to the people for a mandate to carry on and round out a platform which has already insured substantially to the benefit of Canada as a whole. In the heaviest kind of political weather he has guided the ship of state with a secure and experienced hand. It will be the privilege of Victorians tonight to hear him give an account of his pilotage.

SLAVERY IN ETHIOPIA

Ethiopia has been accused of slavery by Italy, and she does not deny it because it is a fact. In this respect, Sir Edward Grigg, who was Governor of Kenya from 1925 to 1930, tells of raids made by the Ethiopians for the purpose of getting slaves. He says that when he was Governor all the tribes along the northern frontier of Kenya were disarmed with the promise of simultaneous disarmament on the Ethiopian side. The latter Government, however, failed to carry out its contract. The slave raids by Ethiopian freebooters continued, and, following protests, the Ethiopian Government paid to Kenya a sum of £21,000 in compensation for raids dating back to 1915. Further raids, however, occurred.

The Ethiopian Government maintains slavery as an institution. It does nothing to discourage a steady traffic in slaves between Ethiopia and Arabia. This question of the slave trade is, however, only one pretext put forward by Italy for military occupation of Ethiopia. There are others. The compelling motive is the multiplication of the population of Italy by half a million souls a year and the necessity of finding some place for that population to expand. Sir Edward Grigg believes that the argument arises for giving Italy a mandate over Ethiopia, but matters have advanced so far that such a solution would not be accepted. He points out that Italy is heart and soul in her present adventure and that Ethiopia is prepared to fight for her national existence. He sees danger in the Powers giving Ethiopia the impression that she can count on them for intervention, whether through the League or in any other way.

POPULARITY OF NOVELS

There are few things more uncertain than the reputation of a book. Even the best judges are hopelessly astray in estimating not only a novel's immediate success with the public but also its permanence in literary value. This is admitted by Mr. Hugh Walpole. In this respect he says that one of the most extraordinary surprises was the success of "Kristin Lavransdatter" by Sigrid Undset. That book is long, historical and foreign, yet it proved, in Great Britain and the English-speaking world, one of the half-dozen most successful books of the last six years.

Mr. Walpole says that the number of books published is so great that many readers who would delight in a certain book never hear of it. He does not agree with many of the younger novelists of the day who think that unless the novel can be moulded into a new form it is no use practicing it. He points out that the novel consists in the creation of believable human figures—that is the beginning and end of the novelist's job. There is no need to desert the great business which is hundreds of years old for new intellectual shape or form. Mr. Walpole believes that what is wrong with present-day literature "is that the intellectual aesthetic critic and the common man are so widely separated. It was not always so, and the common man—I speak with the greatest reverence—the common man has always liked the best novelists in his time—Cervantes, Tolstoy, Dickens, Thackeray. But even if he is willing he cannot be expected to read something which is so difficult for him to understand that he has to wrap a towel round his head and study it for hours."

PROVINCIAL INTRUSION

The problems of the provinces probably need intensive study and application, but the Premiers of some of those provinces are more interested in the Federal election campaign and spend much of their time preparing propaganda which they release from platforms and by broadcasting. Mr. Mitchell Hepburn, of Ontario, has been touring the West and has brought a professional singer in his train to enliven his audiences. Other Premiers are giving up much of their time in the effort to aid Mr. Mackenzie King. The probability is that they will hurt him more than assist his cause. That they should be campaigning in this fashion when their duties are so crucial is an instance of their vanity regarding the place which they occupy in the Federal political picture.

It is a good shoemaker who sticks to his last. The Provincial Premiers have problems enough on their hands without mixing themselves up with those of purely national concern. Provincial Liberal parties were not elected to office to put a Liberal Party in power at Ottawa. The people can determine what they will do in this respect for themselves. Most of all, money derived from provincial taxes should never be used for Federal political propaganda. That is sheer waste and mal-appropriation of the people's money.

"Truth," of London, is another British publication that is outspoken on the recent Alberta political verdict. It says: "The success of Mr. Aberhart's Social Credit Party in the Province of Alberta is a rather depressing revelation of the folly and credulity of an uneducated electorate. It is a success of gross, open, palpable political quackery. Mr. Aberhart's scheme is based on the well-known Douglas Social Credit Scheme, but it is even more grotesquely fallacious—indeed, when Major Douglas was invited to Alberta, he condemned it as wholly impracticable, though he offered to help in evolving another plan suitable for the Province. . . . The whole thing is sheer, unmitigated nonsense, and there can be but one financially disastrous end to the experiment of a Social Credit Government in this Canadian Province."

What energy and enterprise will do is recalled by the death of Sir Sidney Kidman. He started life as a knockabout boy on a South Australian farm. He died the owner of 30,000,000 acres of land and the possessor of livestock numbering hundreds of thousands. He was one of the type that seizes upon opportunity. He had the habit of transmitting misfortunes into benefits. He never swore, he never drank and he never smoked. He ran away from home at the age of fourteen and emigrated from England to Australia. His career is a romance and an illustration of how self-help can be translated into the greatest help of all.

THE WIND GOD

Ho! Ho! I gather my force with might,
I roam unseen where'er I will;
I play with the earth, I play with the sea,
And forests and rivers, they bow to me.

I send forth my breath in torrid heat,
I freeze the earth and torrent bold,
I play with the efforts of puny man,
My power no might may check or hold.

Ye builders of cities and towers of might,
Which shot and shell all have withstood;
I gather my strength and laugh with glee,
And level them flat as sea-beach sand.

Ho! Ho! I gather my force and might,
I roam unseen where'er I will;
I play with the earth, I play with the sea,
And all ye mortals must bow to me.

—Sir Gordon Johnson.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Doubtless the pleasure is an arrest Of being cheated, as to cheat.

We have heard speculators make use of the term "easy money," which is a very expressive but not strictly a classical term. We have seen the eyes of the gambler sparkle as he pocketed the money of the "lucker"—another term which cannot be described as elegant. Never in all our experience have we found money easy to make or easy to come by. We did not believe that making money was a simple and easy process when we read statements in several letters to the Editor that bankers made money merely by writing numerals in their big ledgers; but when a dean of the church declares at a public meeting that bankers do create money by inscribing figures in their books, we are bound to accept that statement and believe that after all the age of miracles is not past. Why should it not be as easy for bankers to create money by making figures, in a ledger as for a magician to catch gold pieces in his silk hat as they dropped through the air? Some day when our diminished or defunct credit has been reassembled we shall have to call upon our banker (if any) and ask him to show us how he does it.

The argument of the reverend economist who says he is not a politician is that if bankers can make money by writing numerals in a ledger, then governments should take the power of making money out of the hands of the banks—a power exercised for sinister, or at least selfish, purposes—and use it for altruistic purposes, for the benefit of all the people. On such a matter as that, where can we be but on the side of the common people and in opposition to the preferred people? If the age of miracles is lingering here still, why should not we and all other common or forgotten people share in the benefits of miraculous performance?

Making money by simply inscribing figures in a ledger is a quicker, a simpler and a less expensive process than creating money by printing all denominations of dollar bills. A selfish person in our position might prefer the use of the printing press for the purpose of making everybody wealthy, for we use printing presses in our business; but making money by printing it has been tried in other countries with results which were scarcely satisfactory or convincing. If the bankers have the necromantic power of making money, which some people believe they have, they have been doing it for a long time without precipitating financial crashes.

There is no nation in the world today which is not staggering under mountain loads of debt—and instead of those loads of debt being diminished they are being increased. There is no doubt at all that the affairs of all or most of the nations have been mismanaged. Looking over to Europe any sane person must believe that the affairs of some of the nations are still being woefully mismanaged. There may be a dim suspicion that the affairs of the nations of this continent are not being wisely administered. What shall be done about those things? If statesmen have failed, in whom shall we impose confidence? Obviously, there is but one, or possibly two, courses to follow.

Some who profess to speak with authority claim that the mountains of debt never can be paid and must be repudiated. But repudiation is an ugly word and has a sinister significance. So we must take the affairs of the nations out of the hands of statesmen and place them in the hands of either churchmen or bankers, the only persons who still retain the old power of performing miracles. But the reverend economists say the bankers who have the power of creating money by writing figures in ledgers cannot be trusted because they might abuse their miraculous powers and use them for selfish purposes. There is, therefore, but one thing to do: set up a theocratic form of government and trust it to do what democratic forms of administration have failed to do—exercise the miraculous power of making money out of nothing, or next to nothing, and paying off on the national and personal debts. The whole thing can be done in the twinkling of an eye, the nations freed from political and financial thralldom. Prosperity will be boundless, peace and plenty will be the lot of all humankind.

An entrancing picture; but then some practical person will be writing to the Editor today or tomorrow, pointing out that money is not wealth but merely a convenient commodity for facilitating the exchange of actual wealth. Idealists will dream beautiful dreams, and some person, maybe having credit at a bank, will shake him, wake him up, and tell him to get-up like a man and face realities. When social sepias lead a political, social or economic crusade, they can always attract disciples filled with what they believe to be holy zeal, but such movements are always ephemeral.

Mrs. Margaret Moss—An Appreciation

By ROSEMARY W. YOUNG

Some Old Country people never regard Canada and Canadians otherwise than "critically." How things were done at home, their standard despite the age. "Other days, other ways." Not so Mrs. Moss. Her love for her adopted country has been self-evident and her aim has been to contribute her best thought and effort to the community in which she lived. Always kindly herself, she has made friends of all with whom she came in contact. Her gracious personality, viewed as a flower of Christian civilization, suggests the thought that a civilization that can produce such a bloom is not effete.

The special work that redounds to the credit of Mrs. Moss is her establishment of public health work in Cowichan District. Her eyes opened by war work to the necessity of building up the physique of the nation, she engaged with all her might the battle of physical fitness for youth. She inspired confidence and the Cowichan District valiantly supported her efforts. The smoothness with which her work progressed bespoke organizing ability of a high order.

Since the death of Colonel Moss, it has been lonely in "Tempe." So the sale of that lovely home and beautiful estate now enables Mrs. Moss to join her sisters in England and to renew old friendships. Her going is a personal loss to many, and a distinct cultural loss to the community of Cowichan. But her influence will long be felt on the island, where many a girl will have better chance in life because of her endeavor.

"Could you tell me how many continents there are in the world?" "What was the population of Victoria in 1878?" "30,000." "What year did the Point Ellice Bridge come in?" "How many parties are running in the Federal election?" "One could go on interminably giving list of questions that are asked of The Colonist editorial department over the telephone. For some unaccountable reason there has been a deluge of such questions lately, all apparently asked with a view to settling a bet. We would like to suggest that a commission on all bets be provided by the winner to the reporter giving the winning answers.—P.C.R."

Cities Did Well

Praise where praise is due. British Columbia municipalities came within $2,000,000 of balancing their budgets in 1934, in the face of unusual difficulties. In that respect they showed an example to governments of much larger resources and revenues, and they had no "promises" to regret. Victoria occupied a position near the top of the list, considering all the circumstances.—S.G.

Political Economy

Political economy consists in taking 10 or 15 per cent off the salary of a $100-a-month clerk, and then appointing a scientist at $500 a year with a staff of technicians to solve the problem of showing how much money the taxpayers have been saved by the transaction.—R.A.G.

Jottings From Colwood

By the time this appears in print the finalists in the Canadian women's closed championship will be named. If it is the "Garrison" reach the final or win the title, Marjorie Todd must take the orchids for her thrilling nineteenth-hole decision over that great shot-maker, Ada Mackenzie, Toronto's Canadian open titlist, on Thursday. She came from behind to victory in a "Garrison" finish. At the eighteenth she was so excited she asked me if the match was all square. Mrs. Horne is about the best golfer to come out of the Prairies in years. She told me the courses in Calgary are just ordinary fields compared to Colwood's beautiful layout. Mrs. Sweeney played some of the best golf her career Thursday, but still lost the verdict to Mrs. Goodenham on the last green. Operator Burns' wife and yours truly started for the links in a hurry to relieve Operator Morarty and the usual happened—a blowout on Gorge Road with no spare in sight. The press room at Colwood is beginning to look like a real newspaper office. Two Vancouver editors over here told us that they walked to the club from the city and then trudged around the course. Plenty of exercise for the boys that day. Ah well, it will be all over tomorrow, and may the best golfer win out.—J.D.

The Inter-Schools Christian Fellowship is an inter-denominational work among "high school students for the purpose of bringing young people to a definite knowledge of Christ, and to band them together in His work. All those interested in this work are invited to attend the rally.

SCANDINAVIANS

Sir—Let me inform the British-Israel Federation that the Scandinavians have not any near relationship with the Belgians or the French, because the Belgians and the French are of the Latin Romanic and the Scandinavians are of the Teuton Germanic, which include the Germans, Austrians, German Swiss and the Holland Dutch. The Scandinavians have not any near relationship with the Latin Romanics or Hellenics or the Slavonians. HAROLD HESKIN, 617 Yates Street, Victoria, B.C., September 18, 1935.

"SONNET"

Sir—Mr. Wilfrid Ord rightly objects to the rather serious grammatical error in the line, "That held all spellbound as those touched the keys," occurring in a poem published in Sunday's Colonist. But is Mr. Ord's substitution of "touch'd" really an improvement? It certainly complies with the rules of grammar and on paper, of metre, but the trouble is that only a vocal contortion could pronounce the word. The complete form, "touch'd," though rather harsh, is not open to this objection; it would, of course, produce a slight metrical disturbance, but so does the phrase, "Of intricate sound," occurring a line later in the poem. The fact is the line needs re-writing. Comprising, as it does, two rather hackneyed phrases, a grammatical error and a rhymless "end," it is the weakest line in a poem which has many beauties, though it can hardly be called a "sonnet."

Prime Minister to Address Victoria Electors at Royal

Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett Will Drive South From Nanaimo This Afternoon, Speaking There and at Duncan—Rally Tonight at Royal Victoria

Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett will arrive at Nanaimo at 1:15 p.m. today from Vancouver, and will speak there and at Duncan while en route to Victoria to take part in a grand Conservative rally at the Royal Victoria Theatre this evening, from whence his address will be broadcast to the electors of Canada over a national radio hook-up. The Prime Minister will leave again on the midnight boat for Vancouver, en route East.

Arrangements for the main rally of the Conservative campaign here were announced yesterday by Hugh Allan, president of the Victoria Conservative Association, who will take the chair.

Speaking here in support of D. B. Plunkett, Conservative nominee in this riding, Mr. Bennett will be attended on the platform by three Conservative candidates from Island constituencies, Mr. Plunkett, C. H. Dickie, of Nanaimo riding, and Reece Hague, of Comox-Alberni riding. All four will be heard at the Victoria meeting.

Doors of the Royal Victoria Theatre will be opened at 7 o'clock for the convenience of a large crowd it is anticipated will wish to attend. The proceedings will commence promptly at 8 o'clock. An orchestra will be on hand to play during the intermission.

Due to the shortness of his stay in Victoria, no other engagements will be accepted on behalf of Mr. Bennett, it is explained.

The Prime Minister will be met at Nanaimo by Conservative officials of the city and Island ridings, and by the three candidates who will accompany him here. He will speak at Nanaimo, and briefly at Duncan, if present plans to that effect are carried out.

The party is expected to reach Victoria about 7 p.m., in time for the Royal Victoria meeting.

MISSING HUNTER REACHES SAFETY

Rescue Party Guides Cecil Bond To His Home After Several Days in Wilds

RUTLAND, B.C., Sept. 20 (C)—Cecil Bond, who became separated from a hunting party last Sunday and wandered aimlessly on the wild Greytown Plateau, forty-five miles northeast of Kelowna, until he was reached yesterday by a rescue party, was returned to his home here today, exhausted but otherwise unharmed.

Pilot "Ginger" Coote, of Vancouver, located Bond Wednesday from the air after search parties had sought him to no avail. The pilot then flew Mickey Derksen, Indian guide, over the country to enable him to select a route for the rescue party.

Derksen guided Game Warden W. B. Maxon, Assistant Forest Ranger O. V. Maudersby, John Kirschner and Sam Lee over the rugged, uninhabited plateau and they reached Bond at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Bond was able to accompany them unaided and was taken to his home here shortly after midnight.

Surface Drain At Hospital Is Now Completed

Relaying of the surface drains at the Jubilee Hospital Nurses' Home was completed by city workmen, who undertook the job for the board of directors. The drain was connected with the new storm drain that was installed in that district recently to relieve flood conditions.

Work of installing a supplementary storm drain at Cecilia Ravine has been started, and men are now busy digging the ditches for the pipes. Half the work will be done this year and the other half next year.

PREPAREDNESS IS SUGGESTED

Rev. C. G. MacKenzie Addresses Graduating Class At North Ward School

North Ward School held its commencement exercises yesterday at 2 o'clock. The entrance and graduating classes were assembled to listen to an address by Rev. C. G. MacKenzie, and to receive various awards.

The ceremony opened with the singing of "O Canada." The principal, W. H. Muncy, introduced the speaker, whose subject was "Be Prepared." He explained how one should be prepared in body, mind and character to reach the greatest heights. His address was enthusiastically applauded.

Mr. MacKenzie then presented the high school entrance certificates and honor roll to the graduates.

TRAY PRESENTED

Mrs. Ross, representing the Local Council of Women, presented a silver tray to the Grade VII class for obtaining first place in the dress-making competition for the city of Victoria held last June. For the excellence of its work this class also received individual silver spoons donated by the Women's Canadian Club, while the teacher, Miss Peto, received a cash prize. The representatives from the Women's Canadian Club were Mrs. Harold Campbell and Mrs. Hoyle. The former made the above awards with a few gracious words.

Hudson's Bay Company, Spencer's, Ltd., and Dick's, Ltd., donated a special prize to Flora Quin, her sewing exhibit having been selected as the finest piece of work in the above competition. This prize was presented by Mrs. MacKenzie.

RECEIVE SWEATERS

Mrs. E. S. Blair and Mrs. J. Wilkinson, representing the Women's Institute, presented the girls' hockey team with a dozen sweaters. This donation was especially well received. Major A. C. Hinton gave a short address in praise of the physical training of the school and presented the senior Strathcona award for hockey cup, donated by The Colonialist, the senior Football Cup, donated by J. E. Painter, and the Junior Basketball Cup, donated by J. Bryant. Major Hinton also presented twenty-three certificates for first aid to the successful candidates.

The principal then thanked the guests and speakers for their presence, excellent addresses and remarks, and the keen interest they and their organizations had shown in the welfare of the children of the school.

himself with public affairs, and organized the first Conservative association in this city. Three years later, in the election of 1896, he was Conservative candidate, being defeated by Rev. George R. Maxwell. When W. J. Bowser entered the field as an Independent Conservative, in 1908 he was successful in contesting the Federal seat and continued as a member of the House of Commons until 1911. He was created a Dominion K.C. in 1890, and had a similar honor conferred on him by the Province in 1908.

Mr. Cowan was for a number of years counsel for the city of Vancouver and surrounding municipalities, and was regarded as an authority on municipal law. In 1925 Mr. Cowan was one of Canada's delegates to the Institute of Pacific Relations at Honolulu. He is survived by his widow, a son and three daughters.

C.N.R. LEASE IS RULED ILLEGAL

Court Finds Director of Railway Had Acquired Property Under Name of Another

MONTREAL, Sept. 20 (C)—A ten-year lease in 1930 of a large Montreal house at a total rental of $157,250 by the Canadian National Railways for the use of the late Sir Henry Thompson, then president of the line, was declared illegal today by Mr. Justice Albert Delorme in Superior Court.

The court ruled that Ernest R. Decary, a director of the C.N.R., at the time of the signing of the lease, had acquired the property under a name not his own, a thing forbidden him by law as he was an interested party to the contract.

By the judgment, the claim of the Montreal Trust Company, to which rights in the lease were transferred to recover $7,862 in unpaid rent instalments from the C.N.R., was dismissed. The whole lease is declared null and void.

Evidence during hearing of the case showed that in August, 1930, the owner of the property, F. N. Beaudry, sold it to Georges Henri Decary, a notary associated with the Montreal firm headed by Ernest Decary. The price was $175,000 for immovables and $10,000 for the furniture.

On the same date he bought the property Seguin leased it to the C.N.R. It was shown, The Montreal Trust Company then loaned $185,000 to Seguin, the latter transferring his rights in the lease to the company.

In its defence of the action the C.N.R. reserved its right to recover from the trust company, Seguin or Decary all money paid to them.

CAPITAL REFORM IS NEED, SAYS PREMIER

world closed to our products, our railroads, lacking tonnage to meet heavy expenditures of the years gone by, our population not increasing sufficiently rapidly to create new business to take the place of lost markets, the purchasing power of our people has been dried up with consequent unemployment, and this problem of unemployment is permanently with us, unless we change our present policies.

"Unfortunately the disabilities from which we are suffering have been pyramiding. Governmental indebtedness has been rapidly increasing, carrying rates of interest higher than reasonable taxation can meet. Under our restrictive policies, private endeavor has been unable to provide employment for all our people, with consequent increasing demands upon the public treasury. Truly it is a vicious circle," the Premier continued.

After dealing with the record of his administration in the last two years, in which decision to build a $2,500,000 toll bridge over the Fraser, road loans, and camp train plans were touched upon, the Premier gave his solution for the future.

"SOCIALIZED CAPITALISM" "There is only one way to break down this vicious system, and that is to create new business opportunities, and where private endeavor is not able to take up the slack of employment, to inaugurate public undertakings," Premier Pattullo declared.

"Neither the reactionaries nor the extremists can properly settle the problems of society. Some years ago when leading H. H. May's Loyal Opposition, I made the statement that economically we were in for a period of 'socialized capitalism.' I meant that while individual initiative and individual ownership must be preserved, capital must be used to the benefit and not the detriment of the people as a whole.

"This necessarily involves a wider Government control and direction, but there is nothing socialistic about it. In fact, under the complex conditions existing today it is essential for industry itself, as well as for the people at large, that there shall be governmental regulation and control.

PREMIER'S ADVICE "Under all existing circumstances and conditions I advise the people of British Columbia to support those candidates who are running

SHOW VICTORIA OFF TO FRIENDS

Portland Couple Delight in Bringing Others to Enjoy Beauty and Charm of City

Victoria is not only the pride of its citizens, but also of Mr. and Mrs. Leon H. Sternhart, of Portland, who periodically bring their friends here to see the beauties and experience the charm of the city.

Although here only a month ago, when they showed the city's attractions to their daughter, Miss Betty Sternhart, and George Malir, a friend from the Eastern United States, the Portland couple are again at the Empress Hotel.

This time they have brought with them Harry Goodwin, of Boston and New York City, well-known furniture fabric manufacturer.

Mr. Goodwin is echoing the Sternharts' praise for Victoria, and is already making plans to come here again shortly. From Victoria the party will tour through the Hood Canal country.

other by non-union workers, will be on hand for loading by union longshoremen.

If the longshoremen refuse to touch it, a "sit-down" showdown was expected to ensue. If they do handle it, it was predicted the long series of "sympathetic" strikes which have afflicted San Francisco's waterfront, will come to an end.

MAY CALL NON-UNION MEN Ship operators said union longshoremen will be asked to work the ships for which cargoes are destined. As fast as they refuse to do it, new gangs will be called for. Whenever the union list is exhausted, under the terms of last year's Maritime award, non-union men may be called upon to handle the cargoes.

Insurance Men Are Delighted With Conclave

For the eighty-odd prize salesmen of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in Washington, Oregon and Montana, their sales congress held at the Empress Hotel was a real entertainment. They said so before leaving for their respective homes yesterday afternoon.

Next year will see an even larger and more representative gathering in Victoria, sales congress leaders declared.

While the agents go back to work, Frederick J. Williams, third vice-president, and other officials of the Pacific Coast head office in San Francisco, will proceed to Del Monte, Cal., where 400 California salesmen will meet next Tuesday.

KING PREDICTS MONEY BATTLE

Liberal Leader Contrasts Spiritual and Materialistic Interests

SASKATOON, Sept. 20 (C)—Hard materialistic principles, whether of big business or communism have no place in the Government of Canada, Liberal Leader Mackenzie King declared here tonight. If Government meant anything it meant the placing of human and spiritual things before selfish material interests.

Mr. King charged Prime Minister R. B. Bennett with proclaiming the materialistic tenets of Karl Marx when he said the only way to carry on international business was "the hard trading way," which had regard to "present material interests."

PROVINCIAL RIGHTS The Liberal Party firmly believed in provincial rights, and under a Liberal Government, the Province of Alberta would have the fullest possible opportunity to work out its Social Credit policy.

In the Federal arena, however, a great battle was looming between the money power and the power of government. If any Government was to win it would have to be a Liberal Government, backed by an overwhelming majority, and Canadians should be careful not to throw away their votes on parties which could not hope to win a Parliamentary majority.

NOTED COACH IS RETIRING

Percy Page to Drop Duties—Former U.B.C. Star Is Successor

EDMONTON, Sept. 21 (C.P.).—Percy Page, who organized the Edmonton Grads exactly twenty-one years ago and has coached and managed that world-champion women's basketball team ever since, announced today that he has retired from active guidance of the team.

Arnold Henderson, former captain of University of British Columbia and of University of Alberta basketball teams, and now a member of the staff of the Commercial High School which the team represents, has been appointed coach. Page will remain for a time as manager and chief executive officer of the organization.

NOTABLE RECORD

Under Page's mentorship, the Grads have won twenty-two of twenty-one possible Provincial championships; have held the Canadian championship since it first was awarded in 1922, and have held the International championship since 1923, except for one year.

The team has participated in the Olympic Games three times and has traveled more than 30,000 miles taking part in more than 400 official games and winning all but eleven—a record believed to be unequalled in the annals of sport.

IS SCHOOL HEAD

In the twenty-one years of the team's history, there have been only two players not graduates of the high school of which Page is principal—and those two exceptions were both Edmonton girls. Page has not decided yet whether he will accompany the Grads to Berlin for the Olympics next year.

COSTS CONSIDERED

The costs were discussed. It was pointed out that during the year ending March 31, last, the Provincial Government had paid for health services more than $1,900,000, and in addition municipalities were contributing almost to the same extent. Adding to this the cost represented in "preventable mortality" (on the computed basis that every adult had a definite economic value to the state), and the cost in wages lost owing to illness, the cost of illness to the people of British Columbia was about $34,000,000.

The plan of health insurance as outlined in the proposed bill had been worked out by study of similar health insurance systems in operation in other countries and after reviewing conditions in this country. It represented a system under which people of moderate income could contribute at stated periods, together with their employers, into a central fund which in turn would be used to provide medical care as required by the contributors. Indigent and their dependents were also covered by the plan. Much of the discussion that followed Dr. Peebles' statement revolved around this point, while another aspect that seemed to hold special interest had to do with medical benefits that would be provided for under the act.

Mrs. C. C. Spord, president of the Local Council of Women, presided, and expressed to Dr. Peebles the thanks of those present.

PROVINCE MUST BEAR MISTAKE

Oak Bay Will Not Pay Demand Made for New Superannuation Plan

Oak Bay Council is not prepared to accept liability for the principal or interest which the provincial superannuation commission holds the district responsible for under the amended basis of contributions sought to be collected from municipalities.

The position taken by Reeve R. W. Mayhew at the meeting of the Oak Bay Council yesterday was that the municipality was prepared to carry the burden for superannuation under the arrangements entered into with the Province, but the scheme was put into effect. He said there was a direct proposition submitted to the municipality at that time and this was agreed to.

PAY FOR MISTAKE

"If the Government at that time made a mistake, it would have to pay for it," was Reeve Mayhew's comment.

A letter was sent to the council by the commissioner of the Province demanding $198.88 as interest alleged to be due on the debt which was purportedly the municipality owed.

The council was in accord with the position taken and a motion was passed, declining to pay the amount demanded.

The situation which Oak Bay is facing in connection with the superannuation scheme which the municipalities throughout the province were asked to enter with the Government scheme, is also a pressing one with other municipalities which are asked now to make heavy payments to bring their superannuation plans into line with actual principles.

Drain Nearly Finished—The Willows drain was reported to the Oak Bay Council yesterday to be nearing completion. The cost of the work is placed to date at $11,211.

Road and Toll Taxes—In an effort, to bring delinquent taxpayers to time, the city's road and toll tax collector is now busy sending out overdue notices to those who have failed to pay their taxes.

Joint Mission—Dr. Richard Feltton, city medical health officer, yesterday left for the Mainland to attend the British Columbia Medical Association conference, there, and also to check up on small-pox cases in the Terminal City.

Health Insurance—The Oak Bay Council will take up at a later meeting the subject of health insurance as set out in the plan initiated by the Provincial Government. Time will be taken to go into the details of the scheme.

Will Light Grounds—The Oak Bay Council, at its meeting yesterday afternoon, agreed to continue flood fighting at Windsor Park football grounds this season as was done last year. This was agreed to on a request from the Oak Bay Wanderers Football Club.

To Speak Monday—Dr. J. L. McDougall, Liberal candidate in Vancouver East, will speak in the Rex Theatre, Esquimalt, on Monday night at 8 o'clock. Jack McDowell, Liberal candidate in Victoria riding, will also address the gathering. The chairman will be J. F. Mesher.

V.I. Bulbs to Orient—Pioneering club in the shipment of Saatchi bulbs to the Orient last year, were followed yesterday by the placement of a small order of narcissi, tulip and Dutch iris bulbs. For Shanghai. The shipment will go out today on the Ss. Empress of Russia, after negotiations conducted through the British Columbia Department of Agriculture.

Original Date Stands—The executive of the Victoria Horticultural Society announced yesterday that the original date of Saturday, October 12, for the annual chrysanthemum show, will stand. Nearly 100 classes are open for competition in the show this year. Prize lists can be obtained from Secretary.

HOSPITAL WILL PRESENT VIEWS
Jubilee Directors to Be Represented at Health Insurance Act Hearings

A lengthy discussion of the proposed state health insurance plan took place at the meeting of the Jubilee Hospital board of directors held last night. Arrangements were made to present the views of the hospital board to the committee that will be sitting at the Legislature Buildings on Monday and Tuesday.

The subject was introduced to the meeting by Dr. T. W. Walker, medical superintendent. In the absence of the president, Russ Allan, the chair was taken by Edwin T. Tomlin, reporter for the jubilee (the total days' stay for the month to be 6,331; average number of patients per diem, 214; cost per diem, $3.68; gross cost per diem, including X-ray and laboratory, $3.99).

SUPERVISORS RESIGN
The superintendent of nurses reported the resignation of two superintendents, Miss Vera Voss, of the children's ward, and Miss Hicks, of the operating room. Miss Dorothy Hiberson, graduate of the Jubilee Hospital who has taken a postgraduate course in children's diseases at Montreal General Hospital, was appointed supervisor of the children's ward, but the other vacancy was not filled.

The thanks of the board were extended to Mrs. Gertrude Huntly for her recent gifts of beautiful flowers. Donations of fruit, furniture and other things were suitably acknowledged; also a cheque for $5 from Dr. D. McTavish. Among the correspondents were some highly appreciative letters from recent patients in the hospital, these thanking the hospital staff for sympathetic care and many kind attentions.

SOCIETY HELPS RELEASED MEN
John Howard Organization Does Valuable Work Among Those Freed From Jail

The directors of the John Howard Society met recently, and reviewed the work of the society during the past month for men who have served sentences and others whom the society could help.

The secretary, Rev. C. O. MacKenzie, who spends Tuesday and Friday mornings in the office, Room 3, Baseline Building, reported that he was in touch with nine men who had reported to the society for help, and that up to the present none of these had slipped.

At the present time there are applications for help from older boys and young men who are afraid that a continuance of their present crime may lead them to commit some crime. Many of these boys were among the striking campers and, in some cases, have been denied entrance to the camps. It was reported that some have been arrested for possessing no visible means of support, although they have no

FOR INFLATION UNDER CONTROL

C.C.F. Leader Advocates Changing Dollar Value to Pay Debts

STURDIS, Sask., Sept. 20 (C.P.).—Controlled inflation was advocated to effect reduction of debts by J. S. Woodsworth, leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, in an address here today.

He dealt with the debt question when he spoke here in support of Rev. A. M. Nicholson, C.C.F. candidate in Mackenzie constituency in the October 14 Federal election.

When the value of the dollar operated to the benefit of the bondholders, then in the eyes of Prime Minister Bennett it was sound money, said Mr. Woodsworth. But when it operated to the advantage of the producer, Mr. Bennett looked upon it as unsound money.

The C.C.F. urged a measure of inflation to effect debt reduction, and it offered an assurance of a decent standard of living, which, Mr. Woodsworth said, was more than the $25 in credit notes monthly offered by the new Social Credit Government in Alberta.

CHAPTER XLVII
Toward late afternoon of the day he and Lisa went trout fishing. Val cleaned their catch and placed them on fern beds in their creels. That accomplished, the two trudged back to the cabin for the evening swim.

Presently Lisa in bathing suit, a red bandana tied about her blue-black hair, came out onto the porch. The photograph was playing and in a gay mood, she lifted arm above her head, and danced on tiptoe and with an exaggerated motion of her slender hips.

"I am Minnie the Moocher," she called to Val just sliding into his suit, "and no beautiful bronzed Adonis can best me to the centre of the lake."

"Oh, he can't, can't he?" he cried. "Well, here he comes to give you a spank for good measure!"

With a gurgle of excited laughter the girl sprang down the steps and darted toward the float to fling herself into a slim curve in the deep waters. Close on her, flying heels Val plunged in and started a pursuit as she dove, doubled, and eluded him under water. She was a clever dodger and it was minutes before he finally caught her small squirming body in a firm clasp.

Laughing helplessly, panting from her exertion, they clung together, keeping themselves afloat. Her face was close to his, her body pressed so tightly against his side that he could feel the pound of her heart. Her black eyes glowed with little bright sparks of laughter that were still defiant. And then suddenly, impulsively, he leaned to crush his mouth against her red, half-opened lips.

He saw her eyes widen, a strange, exultant light leap into their depths. He released her abruptly and they flung apart. Then, with one accord, they set out on their little rhythmic swim. His finely-muscled body adjusted to hers as they cleaved the water in long easy strokes.

Back at the cabin once more, sleek haired and freshly clothed, they went about the task of preparing dinner. They had little to say to each other; but tonight, for the first time in days, Val found himself free of the nagging urge for a drink and a strange excitement mixed with relief coursed through his veins. While Lisa laid the table the phonograph played last year's song hits and he found himself singing with them as he gave an expert hand to the brandy bottle. That had been rolled first in flour, then in corn meal; when they were a sizzling, golden brown he served them crisp hot with corn bread, buttered string beans, fruit and black coffee. Food fit for a rajah, an emperor, a conqueror.

With darkness the mountain climb crept down. Stretched on the wide couch before the fire, drowsy from his day in the sun and the wind, Val lay back and listened. Lisa sat relaxed in an arm chair and as she stared at the burning logs her slow southern voice touched lightly on various events in her short life. These last few evenings, probably as an outlet after her days of enforced silence—she had spoken of Summers at Virginia Beach and a stay in Nassau when many men had pursued and Aunt Julia Lee had permitted acquaintance with him. It seemed strange to think of Lisa in these places. Somehow, he had pictured her always in the moldy old house and garden on the Ashley, though, now that he thought of it, he recalled that she had once told him that she and her aunt, Julia Lee, Garenne, had sometimes traveled a little.

These past evenings, however, he had been so engrossed in his own thoughts to pay much attention to her ramblings. Indeed the only part of her idle recollections that had etched itself sharply in his mind was an incident during her year at a small southern seminary.

During the Easter vacation before graduation, one of the students had heard a startling bit of gossip concerning Lisa's closest friend, Donna Garenne. It revolved an ancient scandal, long dead, and rumors flew about the school that a forebear of Donna's who hailed from Puerto Rico had borne the faint of the tarantula. In addition, they said, Mrs. Goldie Premezenta owned the home in which she lived. Relief officials reported she had been on their rolls four years, receiving $4.39 weekly.

he doctored pyjamas and his flannel robe. But that water had been cold. It was comfortable and pleasant here in the firelight. But even as he threw himself down on the couch again, he knew that despite his exertion he was in for another tortured, wakeful night. What had got into him? Why did he? He couldn't go on always a prey to this thing that seemed to him to command him. If he could only read, get his mind on something else. Lisa broke in on his distracted thoughts.

"Have you ever had a cold in that cold water tonight?" she asked with a shiver.

"I didn't. Just got pretty warm chopping wood and rinsed off at the lake-side. It was like ice, all right." "You should be used to ice," she answered with a little slanting smile. "I am getting to be. And by the way, even if you haven't paid me a pretty speech in ages you might compliment me on my swimming. You had a bad time catching me today, you know."

"Haven't I told you? Sorry. You swim beautifully, of course. Where did you learn?"

"When I was fourteen we spent a few weeks at Puerto Pollensa on Mallorca, and then there were Summers at Virginia Beach. I lived in the water. Nothing else to do." She was rather awestruck lying there curled up in the chair, her lustrous eyes fixed on the fire. Had that been a taunt at his cold-water swimming? She looked charming in that silk blouse and trim tweed skirt. One small foot swung lazily as she talked. What beautiful ankles she had.

She went on murmuring dreamily and he half listened. "Once in Mallorca, I put up my hair, stole the cook's lace mantilla—and flowered ashawl and ran away into the town. An English artist saw me there and wanted to paint my portrait. He was blond and very handsome and I pretended I was grown up. He discovered our villa and loitered outside the garden walls for days. But when Aunt Julia Lee found out, she took me away."

Lisa's aunt seemed to have been forever up to her interfering. A more recent case in point had been the nephew of Aunt Julia Lee's dearest girlhood friend. When this young man had come to Charleston on a visit he had fallen deeply in love with Lisa. "He was terribly attractive even if he was poor," she murmured, "but Aunt Julia Lee was furious and took me away to China. And that, darling, was when I met you."

Delegate to National Chapter Gives Resume

Mrs. L. A. Genge Presents Report of Meeting in Ottawa Before Local I.O.D.E. Chapters Here — Work of Order Grows in Canada

"The meaning of Empire is one of duty, of service, of responsibility, not of gain. It calls on us not to pull down, but to carry on, to hand on to the little ones of today what has come to us, stronger, better, wealthier than ever." These words of Sir Charles F. Lucas were quoted by Mrs. L. A. Genge, in her report last evening of the meeting of the I.O.D.E. National Chapter which she attended at Ottawa as the representative of four Victoria chapters.

Mrs. Genge read a large report which had assembled to hear her. Not only was her resume of the national meeting a clear and concise picture of the highlights of the conference, but she had incorporated many of the social amenities which made her visit to Ottawa as a delightful one, and she also told of the trip by motor from Victoria to Ottawa and return, when she was accompanied by Miss K. Wilson.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

The delegates had been entertained by their Excellencies the Governor-General and the Countess of Beasborough to tea at Rideau Hall, a luncheon party given by Mrs. Tibbits, a tea by Lady Perley, dinners given by Provincial and Municipal Chapters, and other delightful social affairs.

Mrs. Genge told of the business sessions as they took place day by day and was able to give a more vivid picture of the tremendous scope of the order than was possible for her listeners to appreciate from mere written reports.

At a time when the world was looking for lasting peace, it was appropriate that among the by-laws passed at the national meeting was the following: "The purpose of the I.O.D.E. is to promote peace and brotherhood throughout the world." The provincial executive committee in Ontario, feeling that the general prayer of the order did not include a universal supplication for world peace, offered the suggestion that when a new supply of prayer cards was being ordered, the clause: "Help us, we implore Thee, to give our best efforts in the interests of peace and in the spirit of brotherhood throughout the world" be inserted before the words: "Pardon our sins and accept our thanksgiving." The executive committee had considered this an excellent suggestion, and sent the additional wording out to the chapters, urgently requesting their inclusion in the prayer until such time as a reprint be needed.

INCREASE IN CHAPTERS

According to the report of the organizing secretary, said Mrs. Genge, the work of the order had extended in the past year, thirty-one new chapters being formed and fourteen disbanded. The first Canadian chapter had been formed in Chatham, consisting entirely of Canadians with foreign-born parents. This marked a new era, and much to be desired policy in the work of organization. It was gratifying to know that the large increase of new chapters formed last year came from the younger women and girls.

During the year the sum of $7,138.12 had been awarded by chapters and groups of chapters toward bursaries to soldiers' children; $4,083.43 towards bursaries to other soldiers' children, and $3,922 towards scholarships, making a total for the year of $15,143.55 and above the War Memorial bursaries and scholarships. These facts had been contained in the educational secretary's report. In the War Memorial report it was recorded that the total amount collected and distributed in the War Memorial was $475,788.15, and during the past fifteen years, there had been a total interest amounting to $320,578.58.

The total receipts of National Chapter for the year amounted to $55,831.82, and the disbursements, $55,492.12.

The 11th visitation from Winnipeg to hold the next annual meeting there had been gratefully received.

Mrs. Genge closed her report of the meeting with the words of Sir Robert Borden's letter of greeting which was read by Lady Borden at the Municipal dinner: "To those who believe as I do, that the continued unity of the British Empire is, and will be, of the highest service, not only to its component parts, but to the world, the motto of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire is in itself an inspiration."

DRIVE OF 8,000 MILES

Mrs. Genge told in an interesting manner of the Girl Guide rally in Quebec, which she attended, and concluded her report with a fascinating account of the 8,000-mile drive which she and Miss Wilson enjoyed from the West Coast to Eastern Canada and return. Many of the wonderful pieces of scenery, the special points of interest along the route, together with amusing anecdotes, made the account one of great enjoyment.

Vancouver Singer at Nanaimo

The Nanaimo Ladies' Musical Club opened its Winter season with a concert in the Eagles' Hall, Nanaimo, this week, with Miss Patricia Dier (soprano), of Vancouver, as the guest soloist.

The programme was much enjoyed by a flattering large audience, and included, in addition to the vocal numbers, instrumental trios in which Mrs. Gault (pianist), Mr. Schwartz (violin) and Mr. Mallins (cello), took part. Miss Dier sang brilliantly and was cordially received. Her numbers, all most ably accompanied by her teacher, Joseph Hinton, were as follows:

"Porgi Amor," from Mozart's "Figaro," "Scena and Gavotte," from Massenet's "Manon," Grieg's "To a Violin," "Two Eyes of Brown," and "To a Waterlily," "Villanelle" (Del Aquila), "Corals" (Treharne), and "I'm a Merry Zingara" (Balfie).

Two Artists In Recital At Oak Bay

A large and appreciative audience attended the Ogretta McNeill and Kathleen Irwin vocal and piano recital at Oak Bay United Church, rendering full honors to a former neighbor and friend, Ogretta McNeill, and also showing enthusiastic appreciation of the splendid artistry of her Toronto friend, Miss Irwin.

Mrs. McNeill demonstrated versatility and secure technique of vocal art in her happy interpretation of songs as varied as "Sally in Our Alley," "Weaving Lilt," "When I Was Seventeen," and the Irish air, "I Know Where I'm Going." In contrast to these, she sang the beautiful aria, "One Fine Day," from Madame Butterfly; a group of classics by Spohr, Brahms, and Wolf, "Rose So Softly Blooming," "O Golden Age of Innocence," "The Blacksmith," "May Night," and "Eftelied," by Wolf, the encore number being the beautiful "Virginia Slumber Song," by Reyer.

The children present specially enjoyed the delicate humor of a fine group of Christopher Robin songs, "Mistaken," "Three Little Pigs," "Politeness," and "Lines and Squares."

The final vocal group in the generous programme included "O Mistress Mine" (composed by Mrs. Irwin), "O That I Were" (Budge), "Silent and Charvan" (Martin Shaw), and "My Love is a Fisherman" (Strickland). Encores were "Songs My Mother Taught Me" (Debra), and "Round the Manger" (Beach).

PIANO SOLOS

The piano solos were also enthusiastically received, consisting of two splendidly played groups by Miss Kathleen Irwin, who demonstrated very fine technical versatility in Liszt's "Hendel," "Little White Dove," and "English Dance" (Cyndy Scott), and "Sea Lull" (Budge). A number that had instant appreciation was the fascinating "Impromptu" by Chopin, followed by a group that included "Jesu, Joy" (Beach), "Intermezzo in D Major" (Brahms), and the encore number, "Intermezzo in B Flat" (Brahms).

Miss Irwin proved herself an able accompanist, and a skilled virtuoso throughout.

Address Much Enjoyed By Diocesan W.A. Board

Deaconess Robinson Tells of Recent Trip to Old Country—Appeal Made for Books for Columbia Coast Mission

So much of the charm of England is found in the South Country, was the opinion expressed by Deaconess Robinson in her delightful address to the Diocesan Board of Columbia W.A. yesterday afternoon at St. Luke's, Cedar Hill.

In the unavoidable absence of Miss O'Brien, of Village Island, who was to have addressed the board, Deaconess Robinson kindly took her place, and thoroughly interested her audience with fascinating descriptions of her recent eleven-months' visit in England, before the meeting of the Diocesan Board of Columbia W.A. yesterday afternoon at St. Luke's, Cedar Hill.

Many branches will be availing themselves of the opportunity of seeing the slides which Deaconess Robinson has brought back, and of hearing the story on her visit to interestingly told to the board. The diocesan president, Lady Lake, who was in the chair, expressed the thanks of the meeting to Deaconess Robinson, which was heartily endorsed by the members.

News of Miss O'Brien's work on Village Island was conveyed in a letter read by the president, and Mrs. S. Ryall gave an interesting talk on the Alert Bay School closing. The corresponding secretary, Mrs.

Weaver, read letters of appreciation of Mrs. Applewhite's visit from Alberni, Comox, Nanaimo and other Up-Island branches, and a letter was received containing an account of a short but inspiring visit which was paid by Mrs. Ferrabee at Alert Bay on her way to more northern missions on the Coast in June.

CAMP REPORT

The girls' secretary, Mrs. Wilfred Hartley, having left for the Dominion annual meeting, her report of the Anglican Church Girls' Camp was brought in by Miss G. Cheekley. Mrs. Hartley expressing thanks to the board for their support and co-operation. From every point of view the camp was an outstanding success, drawing girls from Comox, Cobble Hill and the Gulf Islands as well as from the city and outlying districts, forty-eight girls attending, and the camp mother, Mrs. Hartley, paid a tribute to the excellent work of the "hut leaders," and to her assisting staff.

The garden party, arranged by the junior branches at Miss G. Cheekley's home in July, was a real success. The educational secretary, Mrs. Alan Gardiner, made an appeal for library books to be returned, and asked for orders for study books and the Church Calendar to be sent in to her as soon as possible.

The Columbia Coast Mission magazine secretary, Mrs. Philp, appealed for reading matter for the camp, also for up-to-date books on religious topics for which Rev. Alan Greene, of Quathiaski Cove, has made a special appeal. These can be left in Room 22, Memorial Hall, Vancouver Street.

JUBILEE SERVICE

In order to insure members joining in the great jubilee service being held by the Dominion board in Ottawa on Tuesday, October 1, a corporate Communion service is planned to be held in Christ Church Cathedral on that day, at 11 a.m., to which all W.A. members are invited—and Up-Island branches will be advised to arrange for similar services in their parishes.

The meeting approved the appointment of Mrs. P. C. Nivn and Mrs. Gardiner as delegates.

CORPORATE COMMUNION

The meeting was preceded by the service of Holy Communion, held in St. Luke's Church at 10:30 a.m., at which Rev. S. Ryall was the celebrant, assisted by Rev. W. Weaver. There were over sixty communicants. A most cordial greeting to the board was presented by the parochial president, Mrs. Lytton, at the opening of the meeting. Mrs. A. Bengough, third vice-president, held the service of intercession at the afternoon session, and Mrs. C. W. Brooks expressed thanks to the branch for its hospitality, which had expressed itself in a lavish display of beautiful autumn flowers.

Mrs. Hinton, on behalf of Christ Church Cathedral Afternoon Branch, invited the board to hold the October meeting in the Memorial Hall, and the invitation was accepted, as was also the invitation of St. Paul's Equinall Branch for the November meeting.

The new life member, Mrs. C. Philp, was given a cordial welcome to the board. The life membership was given by Miss M. L. Hockley, now residing in England.

Gladys Glad On Beauty

Back in the romantic era of history, the young swain wrote sonnets to his lady fair, comparing her to a flower. Indeed this comparison between a woman's body and a flower runs through the literature of all the ages. And it really isn't so far-fetched, because a flower has freshness and fragrance, and so should a woman's body. However, there are some flowers that, while very beautiful in appearance, are totally devoid of any pleasing fragrance. And in the same manner, here are some women who, while attractive in appearance, handicap themselves greatly by being careless about the odor of perspiration. Of course, it's all very well to prescribe deodorants, dusting powders, and like external applications, combating odorous perspiration. They are most effective, and no woman should be without them. If she wishes to retain her natural fragrance, but in any event, to really correct such a condition, internal treatments are also required. For often, faulty elimination is responsible for such a condition. If the wastes of the system are not eliminated in the normal way, the blood is obliged to free itself of them in some other manner. As a result, they are excreted through the skin. The retention of waste in the bowels leads to absorption of the decayed material in the system, and to the eventual throwing off of an unpleasant odor through the pores of the body.

CORRECT ESSENTIAL
Since, then, constipation is a cause of odorous perspiration, correction of the condition is essential. In addition to the use of externally applied deodorants. Copious amounts of water should be consumed so that the food materials will all be properly dissolved, and the wastes thoroughly cleansed from the system. The diet should contain plenty of fresh fruits and vegetables such as kale, broccoli, cabbage, spinach, oranges, prunes and pears, in order to provide roughage. And special exercises should be practiced to strengthen the muscles. The following one is especially excellent. Stand three feet away from a chair, with your hands resting on the chair back. Then draw the muscles of the stomach and bowels in toward the spine. Relax and repeat ten times.

Editor's Note: To obtain Miss Glad's pamphlet on "The New Figure" and "Beauty Culture" write care of Central Press Canadian, Toronto, enclosing a self-addressed envelope, stamped with a 3-cent stamp and 10 cents in coin for each, to cover cost of printing and handling.

Natives Hire Themselves Voluntarily Into Slavery

By PIERRE VAN PAAREN

ADDIS ABABA.—Of what value are laws against slavery when parents sell their children? "I wanted to buy a mule because auto trips are too expensive in Addis Ababa. A mule costs 200 francs, that is, some $14. "O, misseth" (monieur), said the boy who follows me around like a dog, "mules are much money here in Addis Ababa. If misseth go north to Quallamo land, mule cheap. Buy ten mule for one boy slave." All this in pidgin French.

"Buy ten mule for boy slave? Where get boy slave?" I asked. "You buy him boy slave him father, misseth! Me show you my country!" Plenty boy slave, cheap! "Is this true?" I asked Mr. George Kairo, a Greek merchant of twenty years' residence in Addis Ababa. "The lad knows what he is talking about. He's a Guimmarra. They never lie," came the answer.

"How can you tell he is a Guimmarra and not a Chankalla?" I asked.

"Look at the tattoo mark on his forehead," explained Mr. Kairo. "His father cut that into his forehead on his third birthday. You can tell the tribes by the cuts and tattoo marks they have in their faces."

"Is the Guimmarra tribe given over to slavery?"

SOME SLAVERY VOLUNTARY

"Not more than the others. Guimmarra are very desirable. Most of the slaves in Addis Ababa, the liberated slaves then, are Guimmarra. The Amharas (the tribe which is dominant in Addis Ababa) are fond of the Guimmarra because of their truthfulness and their eagerness to work, whereas the Ouallamas are the laziest and most incorrigible thieves in the world. Never take a Ouallamas for servant. He'll rob you of your last sou and you will never be able to locate him again, nor all the police in Addis Ababa."

"There is a lot of talk about slavery in Abyssinia; did you ever see a slave market?" I asked the prefect of the College of Notre Dame.

"Yes, I have seen several. But you would not call them slave markets on first sight. You would call them a labor exchange, perhaps a place where men and women and boys and girls come to hire themselves out. It's quite voluntary in most places in the central provinces."

"But when people voluntarily place themselves under a master, hire themselves out, as you say, you really cannot speak of chattel-slavery," I insisted.

DECEPTION EMPLOYED

"No, of course not, nobody does. That is not the kind of slavery all the fuss is about. What is an evil, an almost ineradicable evil it seems, are the raids upon peaceful villages in the outlying domains," replied the prefect.

"And then," he added, "there is a lot of deception and trickery even in those seemingly normal labor exchanges. The name of such a labor exchange in Amharic is 'mafangal,' which means to seduce, to lure away by false promises. Young women from fifteen to thirty years or more, usually little girls from eight to twelve, are promised that they will become concubines or wives, or that they will occupy some fine position in the household of their employer. A life of luxury and ease is mirrored before their eyes by professional smooth talkers. The children have lived in penury and poverty up to that time and they generally fall for the persuasive speech of the suave recruiters. That's the last their parents ever see of them. They are shipped away and never return."

"Now the liberated slaves in Addis Ababa, those who are free now, were they all obtained in a similar manner in the old days?" I asked next.

"No, they are for the greater part prisoners of war or descendants of prisoners of war."

"From what country?"

ALWAYS CHRISTIAN

"From neighboring tribes with whom the Addis Ababians, the Amharics as they are called, warred incessantly in the last century. Formerly the war was the principal source of slaves. When a tribe was beaten in battle its aged and crippled were disemboweled, one-tenth of all the movable property was first set aside for the state, whereafter the conquering warriors divided women, horses, men slaves, ornaments and money. That was the regular procedure."

"And Abyssinia was always a Christian land, nominally at least?"

"Certainly," came back the prefect, "but very much nominally.

The great disaster of the Abyssinian Christians is that they have fallen into the heresy of Dincosco."

"How long ago did slavery flourish quite openly here in Addis Ababa?" I inquired.

"That's not so long ago," came back the prefect at once. "Let me see. In 1918-20 the open slave traffic began to diminish. I remember distinctly one fine morning in 1914, while walking along the Boulevard Makonnen, I saw a huge column of Chankalla people being led away into slavery. There were boys and girls and all were stark naked. They were tied two by two and must have had a long march behind them for they were emaciated and starved."

"How many would you say were in the party?"

"Oh, thousands!" exclaimed the prefect.

"Thousands of slaves passed along this boulevard, the most aristocratic street of Addis Ababa, where we are this moment drinking a cup of Maxwell House coffee with real cream, and this only in 1914?"

EMPEROR'S SLAVES

"Yes, of course, I saw many slave troops after that, but never quite so many as that morning in August, 1914. I remember the date distinctly. It was the morning of the declaration of war in Europe."

"And where did those slaves go? Were they bound for Arabia?" I asked anew.

"Well, that's the most surprising part of it," replied the prefect. "I sent up to one of the guardians and I asked him who was the owner of all those slaves and he said, curiously, 'Lidje Yassou!'"

"The emperor?" I exclaimed.

"Yes, the emperor who was de-throned a few years later by his present glorious majesty."

"That's extraordinary," I said, "in 1914 you witnessed a scene that must have been frequent in ancient Thebes or Memphis in the days of the first Egyptian dynasties, 4,000 years ago!"

NEW ZEALAND DAIRY BOARD TO CULTIVATE GOOD WILL OF BRITISH

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Sept. 20 (CP via Reuters).—The New Zealand Dairy Board today passed a resolution that the board's first consideration should be to keep and cultivate the good will of British dairy produce houses and buyers. That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE OFTEN DUE TO PERSONALITY

It is generally known that overweight is a cause of high blood pressure.

pressure also. In the case of overweight it is simply that the fat so interferes with the proper working of the blood vessels that the heart has to pump the blood harder through these vessels. If the weight is reduced, the blood pressure becomes lower. Thus the overweight individual is more likely to have high blood pressure than the underweight.

However, there are many individuals whose very personality actually keeps their blood pressure above normal. These are the sensitive high-strung individuals, very active physically and mentally.

These individuals are easily excited emotionally and under these emotional disturbances the blood pressure immediately goes up a number of points.

Dr. D. Ayman in the American Journal of Medical Science states that in regard to the effects of personality on high blood pressure it is important to modify or lessen this so-called high blood pressure personality and to lessen the emotional and mental responses of the patient because they are accompanied by a marked rise in the blood pressure.

He uses "education" with these individuals, pointing out that if they allow their emotions to carry them away, damage to the blood vessels will occur and permanent high blood pressure will be the result. In some cases sedatives—sleep-producing or pain-relieving drugs—are necessary to keep these individuals calm.

In a study of one hundred and eighty-two cases Dr. Ayman found an increase in both physical and mental activity. They are dynamic, over-active persons with a large and steady output of energy. They are sensitive and quick-tempered and that would appear to have been born in them.

The point then is that high blood pressure, while more frequent in overweight persons, is quite common in those of normal weight who are over-active, sensitive, high-strung, nervous. The treatment of course is to acquire a "calmness of spirit" by developing a philosophy of life by means of religion or by other methods.

SAVED LIVES AND VESSELS

Value of Coast Guard Service Is Told in Annual Report

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP).—Telling the story of another year's fight against death and property loss on the seas, the coast guard reported today that 16 men saved, 8,820 persons from peril in the twelve months ended last June 30. This was an increase of 228 over the previous fiscal year.

"Instances of vessels assisted were listed at 6,777, and the total value, including cargo, at $5,703,376, a decrease of eighty-four and an increase of $11,407,470, respectively. Persons aboard vessels aided totaled 32,881, while 927 persons in distress were cared for and 7,928 cases of "miscellaneous assistance" were reported.

LITTLE HOPE ENTERTAINED

Northland Flyers Total 50,000 Miles in Search for Missing Plane

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Sept. 20 (AP).—Northland flyers carrying on their search in the Yukon for the lost plane of Pilot Arthur F. Hines, must obtain another leader.

Murray B. Hall, aeronautics inspector for Alaska, who directed the hunt for a month, has received orders from the Department of Commerce to report at Washington, D.C., for a transfer to another field.

During his search for Hines and three passengers, Mr. and Mrs. John Lons and Alton Nadeau, all of Fairbanks, Hall flew 4,500 miles over rough and dangerous country between Dawson and Fairbanks.

Hall estimated that the planes which have conducted the search since the Hines ship vanished on August 19, have flown a total of 50,000 miles.

Little hope that Hines and his passengers will be found alive is entertained by Hall. He believes they went down in heavy timber in the Alaskan wilderness.

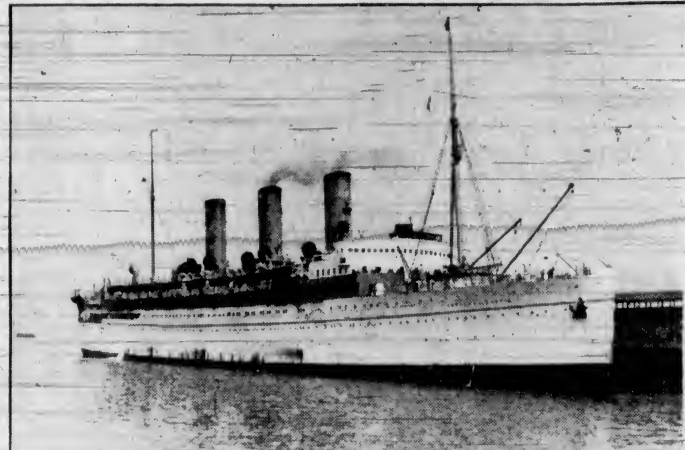

President of United States Fires Blast by Touching Electric Button

OCALA, Fla., Sept. 20.—A thundering blast, touched off by President Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N.Y., tore out the first hole in the route of the Gulf-Atlantic canal here yesterday, while Senator Fletcher predicted ultimate completion of the greatest waterway undertaken by the United States since the Panama Canal.

Hundreds joined in a cheer as a geyser of dirt and dust burst into the air from an impulse started at the touch of a telegraph key in Mr. Roosevelt's home.

Fletcher told the jubilant Floridians they would live to see the ships of every nation push through

Is Sailing Westbound for Orient Ports

The Canadian Pacific liner Ss. Empress of Russia, Captain W. T. Kinley, R.N.R., commander, is leaving here this afternoon for the Philippines by way of Japan and China. The liner is due here at 4 o'clock, and scheduled to clear for Yokohama at 5:30 o'clock. She will pick up passengers, mails and cargo on arrival at Rihet Pier. In all, the Russia will have 250 travelers aboard.

the $146,000,000 project, saving two and a half days' sailing time between Gulf of Mexico and Atlantic Ocean ports.

Various organizations in the lower part of the state have fought the canal bitterly, claiming it would be nothing more than a "big drainage ditch" to draw off vital moisture and contaminate what was left with salt water.

The P. & O. liner Mantua, now bound bound to China and intermediate ports with a full complement of passengers, has been sold to Chinese shipbreakers. She will be handed over to them on completion of her present passage and it is a condition of the sale that she is not to be resold or employed, but is to be broken up.

The Mantua was built by Caird & Company at Greenock in 1902 and made her maiden voyage to Australia in June of that year. She was one of the well-known "M" class of vessels of 11,000 tons, with a speed of about sixteen and one-half knots, the sister ships being the Mores and Malva.

The Mantua was on a cruise in Northern European waters in July, 1914, and on the report of the imminence of war made a dash for home. Although running short of fuel, the risk of being delayed and trapped in the Baltic if she stopped to bunk up forced her to make a dash for it, burning some of her wooden deck and fittings to keep the fuel.

She and the Macedonia were immediately requisitioned by the Government and were equipped as armed cruisers. On conclusion of the war, the Mantua resumed her regular run under the P. & O. flag. She has continued this unbroken until the present time and is one of the best-known ships on the China run.

ONLY FEW SHIPS ARE AFFECTED BY PROTEST

PARIS, Sept. 20 (AP-Havas).—The twenty-four-hour strike called by French longshoremen in protest at the use of tankers for shipping wine seemed today to have won little following.

All the ports of France were to have been tied up today by the refusal of dock workers to go to their jobs. Instead only a few ships in each port were affected.

CLOSE CERTAIN FISHING AREAS

Temporary Measures to Let Salmon Reach Rivers Is Taken by Supervisor

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20 (CP)—Temporary closure of salmon fishing in certain districts of the Gulf of Georgia was announced today in a statement issued by J. A. Mott, chief supervisor of fisheries in the port of Vancouver.

In part, the statement read: "All salmon fishing with nets is prohibited in district No. 1, from 8 a.m. Saturday until further notice."

"Exempted from the above closure are the 'Serpentine' and 'Nicomel' Rivers, Howe Sound, inside or northwesterly of a straight line drawn from Point Atkinson to Gower Point, and Burrard Inlet, above Second Narrows Bridge, where fishing may resume at 8 a.m. Monday, September 23."

A close inspection disclosed a late run of pink and sockeye salmon in the vicinity of the Fraser River, and just as soon as these fish reach the spawning grounds fishing will be reopened.

Troops Drill as Ethiopia Faces Crisis

A crucial hour in the history of Ethiopia was dawning as these pictures were made in Addis Ababa, the capital, and the world's oldest empire stood on the verge of chaos. Of seemingly ominous import are the black clouds that scud across the sky as crack troops pass in review before Emperor Haile Selassie (top), and then leave for the "front," where they may soon be called upon to meet the might of Italy in battle. Below, the elders of the land meet in solemn conclave, and the only topic they discuss is war.

TORRID DRAMA IS AT THE CAPITOL

"China Seas" Co-Stars Jean Harlow, Clark Gable and Wallace Beery—Action Keen

Between dangerous thrills and dangerous romance, there is something doing every minute in "China Seas," the new all-star Metro-Gwynn-Mayer drama which opens today at the Capitol Theatre.

The stars are Clark Gable, Jean Harlow and Wallace Beery.

Part of the story is played in the howling fury of a tropical hurricane on the last frontier, the wild south-eastern coast of Asia. It is one of the most spectacular sequences ever filmed.

"China Seas" deals with the odd love story of the hard-bitten young skipper of a coastwise liner, played by Gable, and "China Doll," a lovely wanderer in the Asiatic ports, played by Miss Harlow, involved with them is a mysterious trader, Wallace Beery, who is suspected of being the master mind of a piracy plot.

Action takes place entirely on the wheezy old liner, Kin Lung, as it ploughs down the China Sea, between Hongkong and Singapore. Under the polite veneer of the passengers runs a tremendous dramatic undercurrent of fierce love, bitter hates and sinister intrigues, to which the typhoon and the sudden catastrophic pirate raid are fitting background.

Strong Cast to Appear in Film

ALHOUSE TO PRESENT OPERATIC SELECTIONS
Paul Althouse, who will sing here on Thursday, October 1, at the Empire Theatre, is one of the few singers who has reached as high a pinnacle of fame in concert as he has attained in opera. An artist of distinctive personality, his concert programmes are notable for their dramatic presentation of the varying moods of his songs.
His coming programme affords a great opportunity for the display of his superb voice. Opening with two Handel arias, it includes the favorite "O Paradiso" aria from "L'Africaine," and the "Spring Song" from Wagner's "Die Walkure." It also offers songs by Strauss and Schubert and two groups of English songs, including numbers by East-

DAILY DOUBLE PAYS $830.75 AT THE WILLOWS

Saanich Man Holds Lone Ticket; Many Other Good Prices

Busy Seth and Koji Provide Handsome Reward—Big Pine Sets Track Record in Malahat Handicap—The Colonist Speed Handicap Is Feature of Today's Racing

Capped by the record pay-off of $830.75 for the only winning ticket held on the daily double, good prices ruled again yesterday at the Willows track as the fourteen-day racing meeting neared its conclusion. The thoroughbreds will gallop again today when a first-class seven-race programme will be staged and will wind up Monday afternoon with the final card of the 1935 racing season on British Columbia tracks.

Today's feature race will be The Colonist Speed Handicap at five and one-half furlongs and is the sixth race on the card. Leading sprinters who have galloped to victory on Western Canada and Pacific Northwest tracks will go to the starting gates in this event.

FAVORITES ENTERED
The overnight entries include such favorites as Big Pine, who yesterday won the Malahat Handicap, and in so doing set a new track record; Stanhill, holder of two track records on the mainland; Bell Rap, Terry Tot, Verna Loan, Triassic, Flagtime, Brown Bonnet, Royal Royce, Gobo, Mopeek, Lynnewood and Sweet Mayme.

The winner will be decorated at the conclusion of the race by Miss Kathleen Swayne, daughter of C. Swayne, editor of The Colonist.

With such a select field of sprinters entered, the handicap promises to be one of the best sprints ever witnessed at the local track.

SETS TRACK RECORD
Big Pine, smart three-year-old from the Emerald Stock Farm, and owned by Frank Bevan, Up-Island lumberman, stole the spotlight yesterday when he set a new track record in the Malahat Handicap at one mile. With Jockey Dubois in the saddle, the Vancouver Island bred chipping three-fifths of a second off the time previously set by Flashy. He will go to the wire again today in The Colonist Handicap.

With the favorites finding it difficult to get down in front, Busy Seth, owned by R. Holmes, provided the biggest upset of the day when he came to the wire in the second race and paid off at $33.80. Completely overlooked by the punters, who made Orisons the favorite, Busy Seth, with Whilacre in the saddle, went to the front when Oregon Mist tired and had no difficulty in holding his advantage to the wire.

Edison, the favorite, made every post a winner in the initial sprint of six furlongs and thirty yards and won easily. Ade was second and Lady Goldstream third.

KOJI WINS
Koji, well ridden by Harris, smart young apprentice rider, took the major share of the pot in the third gallop of five and one-half furlongs and provided the second half of the winning daily double, which returned $830.75. The winner paid $33.80 straight. Gypsophila, after setting the pace all of the way, had to take the place slot, while Captain Larco, the favorite, finished third.

Made the third choice by the punters, Ella Madeline, with Jockey Dubois in the saddle, took the fourth race. Dubois, with a leg up on Big Pine, rode his third winner of the day when he brought the Emerald Stock Farm three-year-old to the wire after being out in front for the complete distance. Platirica was second and Genevieve M. was third.

Braddock Figures Baer Will Capture Decision Tuesday

By EDWARD J. NEIL, Associated Press Sports Writer. SPECULATOR, N.Y., Sept. 20 (AP).—James J. Braddock, heavyweight champion of the world, looked at Max Baer boxing today and without even wincing, announced: "Baer will outpoint Joe Louis in the Yankee Stadium on Tuesday night. Why? Louis will wear himself out punching this fellow."

But the faces of the Baer supporters, already a foot long after one of the most dismal training camp showings Baer or any other heavyweight ever made, fell another foot. If there's anything in the world Louis, the Bomber, can do, it's punch. The prospect of wearing down the black cyclone with his chin appealed to none of them. Last of all Baer.

"Listen," said Max, dragging this reporter off to one side. "You picked me, eh? Stick to that. Never mind what anyone says, never mind what you are in this ring here. Stick to me. I'll do my fighting Tuesday night."

MAX LOOKED BAD

To say that handsome Max looked terrible today is putting it mildly. Abe Feldman, a main-bout heavy-weight who was tossed out of the ring in Mount Vernon, N.Y., a couple of years ago because the referee thought he was "carrying" Braddock, sniffed Max all over the premises for two rounds. Then, George Turner, a young fellow from Tulsa, with a record of only ten professional fights, took up where Abe left off. In one exchange, George pinned Baer on the ropes and had him so completely off balance that he clubbed Max at will. The rest of the time he clubbed Max at will anyway, anywhere.

LOUIS WORKS TODAY

FORTMON LAKES, N.J., Sept. 20 (AP).—Joe Louis, who thrives on action, cheered up a bit today at the prospect of having a few sparring partners tossed at him for annihilation tomorrow.

Already, homed-to razor-edge for Tuesday night's battle with Max Baer in New York, the brown bomber is scheduled to take his last real work-out. He'll get a chance at all of his five sparring partners, including Paul Cavaller, the Paterson, N.J., heavy, who has been out of circulation for a few days because of illness.

It will be Louis' ninth ring session since he pitched camp three weeks ago. Not in many years had a top-flight boxer gone into an important bout with so few hard workouts under his belt.

The truth is Joe is ready now and has been for more than a week.

Joe's wedding to Marva Trotter now is scheduled for anytime between the end of the fight and Wednesday noon. If he comes out of the scrap without a discolored eye, cut lip or other blemish, the pair will dash to the preacher's straight from the ring. Otherwise the event is booked for Wednesday morning.

ROYALS BEAT SYRACUSE, 8-1

Montreal Nine Evers Up Series in International Baseball League

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Sept. 20 (AP).—Driving Flint Rhem from the box in the first inning to sew up the game, Montreal Royals trounced Syracuse 8-1 here today, drawing up their even terms with the Chiefs in their International League play-off series for the Governor's Cup. Each team has now won two games.

Pete Appleton limited the Chiefs to seven hits, no two of which came in the same inning, and walked only one man, while the Royals were combining the offerings of four Syracuse hurlers for fourteen safe blows.

Three double plays by the Montreal infield helped spoil the few Syracuse scoring chances, and the Chiefs, who pushed over their only run in the second on a walk, single and infield out, were lucky to avoid a shutout.

FLIGHT...by W. D. TIPTON and J. H. MASON

ALTHOUGH not a flyer and with no experience at the controls, Corporal Hilmer N. Turner, clerk at the Naval Air Station, San Diego, Cal., won the Distinguished Flying Cross, the highest award given to United States flyers.

Turner was making a flight as a passenger with Staff Sergeant Orio S. Hoffner, United States Marine Corps, in a navy training plane. While flying at 2000 feet above Camp Kearney, the pilot became ill and fell forward on the controls in a fainting condition. Turner's first warning of the situation came when the plane fell out of control with the stick and rudder bar in a locked position. He rose in his cockpit to

"EVERY MAN HAS HIS PRICE"

This is one of the most pessimistic appraisals of humanity current.

Fortunately, however, as is the case with almost every sweeping statement, this one is not to be taken too literally.

If considered seriously at all, it is to be presumed merely as a conclusion that, subjected to the temptation of acquiring quick and unusually dishonest riches, there will frequently be found people in public life capable of who will sacrifice honor to gain.

The line was undoubtedly inspired by Walpole, Prime Minister of England during the eighteenth century, of whom Coke, in his Memoirs of Walpole, wrote:

"Flattery oratory he despised. He ascribed to the interested views of themselves or their relatives the declarations of pretended patriots, of whom he said, 'All these men have their price.'"

ASTON VILLA'S HOPES

BIRMINGHAM 19.—J. H. Robey, a right back from Stalybridge Celtic, and C. Black, Port Glasgow left back, are the only new men signed on so far this season by Aston Villa, famous Midland soccer club.

Many improvements have been made to the stands at Villa Park and directors of the club are hoping for a good season.

Oaklands School Wins Seventeen Awards for Extra-Curricular Activities

Tribute to the leadership of Robert H. McInnes, principal of the Oaklands School, and his staff, was paid by speakers at a ceremony held in the auditorium yesterday afternoon when various trophies were presented.

Under Mr. McInnes' leadership the school won seventeen trophies last term. It already has in its permanent possession six other trophies.

In every inter-scholastic sports competition the Oaklands School was represented in the play-off. This in itself bore witness to the fine team work encouraged by the teaching faculty among the students.

On the platform for the ceremony were: Mrs. F. E. Corby, of the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E.; Lieut. Colonel J. R. Kingham; Major M. Kirkpatrick-Crockett; Colonel W. N. Winby, president of the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion; Major Fred Richardson; Rev. F. W. Weaver; Mrs. W. C. Cave; C. W. Page, of the Hudson's Bay Company; J. A. Barnwell, manager of the Blue Ribbons basketball team; Dominion champions; Alderman James Adam; Trustee W. C. Moresby, K.C.; J. V. Johnson, and a representative of The Colonist.

MANY TROPHIES
The trophies represented were: The I.O.D.E. Municipal Chapter Trophy for the best cadet corps in the Province; the Hon. W. C. Nichol Shield for the best cadet corps in Victoria; the British Campagners' Shield for the best cadet corps in Greater Victoria; the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion Trophy for best physical fitness among Victoria schools; the Strathcona Trust prize for physical training; second prize in the youth of the Empire rifle competitions; The Daily Colonist Senior Schools Rugby Trophy; the Hudson's Bay Company Tug-of-War Trophy; the Sweeney-McConnell Boys' Senior Basketball Trophy; the Public Schools Magazine Trophy for girls' senior basketball; the Parent-Teacher Association's Cup for most aggregate points at the Willows sport meet, and Junior Championship Cup at the Willows sport meet. Entrance certificates and rolls of honor also were presented during the afternoon. In three instances, the trophies won by the Oaklands School were for the third consecutive year, and in another instance, for the fifth consecutive year.

What Today Means

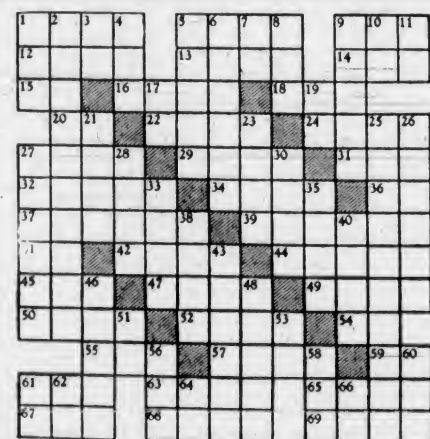

"VIRGO"
If September 21 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:15 a.m. to 1:15 p.m.; from 3:15 to 5:15 p.m. and from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m., from 1:15 to 3:15 p.m. and from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m.

It will pay to seek some form of diversion this day and dismiss, if possible, all thoughts of business, care and responsibilities. Remember: "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." It will be dangerous to indulge in any manner of undue familiarity, regardless of how intimately you may know anyone. Exercise caution in safeguarding valuables, especially money and jewelry, as the light-fingered gentry are apt to be very active, particularly in crowded places. Be careful of a misapprehension of facts involving some unusual condition does not cause you to do a friend an unintentional injustice. If you attend any social affair this day it will be an error not to pay your host or hostess a great deal of attention. Married and engaged couples, and those susceptible to Cupid's influence, should neither by sign nor word give the slightest ground for envious suspicion.

If a woman, and September 21 is your birthday, you probably not only give but receive a great deal of love. Inclined to be emotional, it might be just as well if you do not display this characteristic too readily. Being very sympathetic, you run the danger of unworthy friends and acquaintances, taking advantage of your trusting disposition. It may pay you to cultivate the habit of investigating stories before accepting them literally. Having an active imagination, you should do well as a writer, artist, sculptor or designer. Your matrimonial life possibly will be free from troubles, trials or tribulations.

The child born on September 21 may, when it reaches its teens, be inclined to take itself too seriously. Plain talk, accompanied by unwillingness to tolerate any form of egotism, probably will be the best cure. If a man, and September 21 is your natal day, you are perhaps the type that should always be well groomed. Your personal appearance may have a great bearing on your success in business. Engineering or work of a mechanical nature, journalism and salesmanship are likely to prove profitable lines of activity.
